

U. S. STAGES 1919 TOURNEY TO TEACH CIVILIANS TO SHOOT

Greatest Rifle Matches in the History of the Country to Be Held on Navy range in New Jersey

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 3.—The greatest shooting match in the history of this country will be held this summer on the immense navy rifle range at Caldwell, N. J., for forty-five minutes from Broadway.

Thousands of expert marksmen from the army, navy, marines and civilian life will compete for national marksmanship honors on the largest rifle range in the country, and 25,000 spectators are expected to watch the shooting.

The 1919 national rifle match will be the first held since we entered the war with Germany. The marksmanship contests were held annually prior to the war, but there was a lapse last year. As a result of this and of the fact that the war has created great interest in rifle shooting among soldiers and civilians, the Caldwell match will be a record breaker.

Thanks to the national defense act of 1916, government rifle ranges are now open to civilians as well as soldiers and sailors. Payment of 50 cents a day for meals and board is the only expense required; the government furnishes all the necessary arms and ammunition. This advantage will bring to the match many private rifle teams and clubs which in past years were barred. There are 2000 rifle clubs in the United States.

In addition to civilians, teams will compete representing the army, navy and marine corps, and two delegations from every state and territory—one representing the national guard and one the civilian riflemen. Both state units are appointed by the governors, and their expenses, including transportation and subsistence, will be paid by the government. Colleges and military schools also will send teams, which are expected to swell the total of teams competing to more than 100.

Navy to Be Host

The navy, which built the Caldwell rifle range, will be host to the visiting riflemen for the first time. Lieut. Col. William C. Harlowe of the marine corps, who was largely responsible for the development of small arms practice in the navy during the war, is executive officer of the matches. Co-operating with him in making the arrangements are the national board of promotion of rifle practice, a branch of the war department, and the National Rifle association.

The rifles will begin to crack at the 100 targets at Caldwell on July 1, practice matches and minor competitions coming first. These will be followed by a period of instruction in marksmanship for the civilian teams, after which the National Rifle association will hold a series of competitions, which will include some of the oldest and most historic of the nation's rifle contests. These events will lead up to the marksmanship classics called the national matches, which will be held toward the end of August.

These consist of three competitions, the national team match, with teams of 12 riflemen pitted against one another, the national pistol match and the national individual match.

The national trophy—a bronze plaque showing Mars holding in his hand the dogs of war—will be awarded to the winner of the national team match while there are three other prizes for service teams, national guard, civilian clubs and schools and colleges.

Many Prizes Offered

The program also includes the Wimbledon match, a match shot at 1000-yards targets, the winner of which holds for one year the Wimbledon cup, presented to American riflemen by Princess Louise of England in 1875, the Leech cup match, for a trophy presented in 1874 by the Irish rifle team, the president's match, to the winner of which goes an autographed letter of congratulation from President Wilson and the title "Military Champion," and the marine corps cup match, for a cup presented by the marine corps.

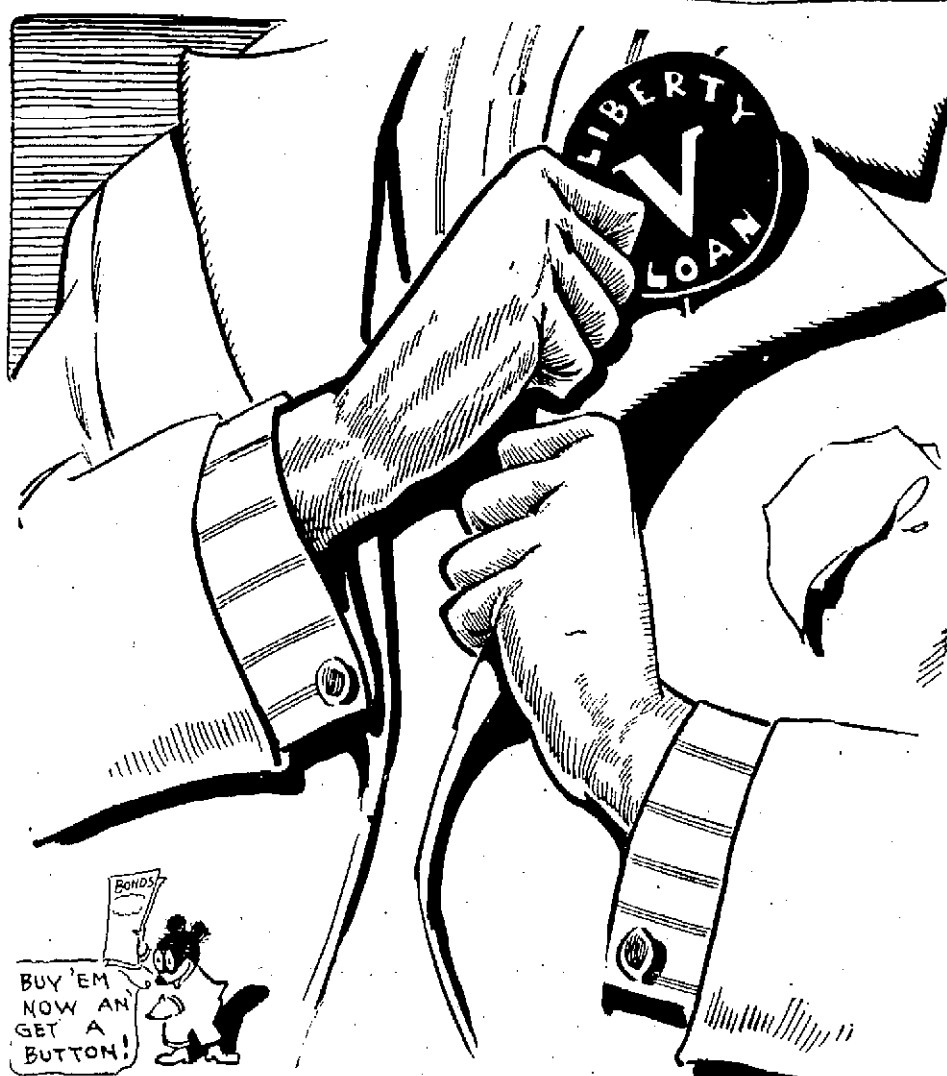

The American army rifle which was used by the doughboys and marines in France will be used in most of the matches, but the high power service weapon, which carries a steel-jacketed bullet more than three miles, will be used only in the government competitions. To interest all comers it is planned to stage events using the small-bore rifle at short ranges, as well as trap shooting events.

Professor Charles F. Marvin, chief of the weather bureau, United States department of agriculture. The weather bureau by direction of the secretary of agriculture and at the request of the secretary of the navy, is aiding the navy in every possible way to make the first over-ocean journey a success. A friendly co-operation also exists with the meteorological services of Canada and Great Britain and aviators of other nations preparing to make this flight.

Reports From Europe and Ocean

As part of its work the weather bureau is using its daily reports from all its stations in the continental United States to give indications of the most favorable day for the long flight to begin. It has arranged to receive wireless and cable reports from observing stations on the west coast of Europe from Spitzbergen and Iceland in the North to the Azores in the south, and other reports are to come by wireless from naval vessels, ranging in class from battleships to submarine chasers, posted on the bosom of the Atlantic. All these reports are to be compared, charted and summarized in Washington by the official forecaster, who in this case will be Major H. H. Bowie, who was on duty as forecaster for the American expeditionary forces in France during the war. His forecasts and detailed advices concerning the meteorological conditions will be transmitted to Willis H. Gregg, a bureau meteorologist who has studied extensively the relation of weather conditions to trans-Atlantic airplane flights, and who has gone to Newfoundland, where the American planes are to take the air for overseas after flying from New York, and he is now receiving summaries of daily conditions. Mr. Gregg acts as the point of contact between the weather bureau and the naval aviators. He is equipped to tell them not only when no storm is approaching, but to indicate the successive directions toward which an airplane should be headed to keep to

May Day Strikes

May day, quarter century ago, was largely celebrated by labor strikes all over this country. The demands were not for any increase over the former rate of wages but for the restoration of cut-downs made during the winter and spring. A business depression had swept the land and in most cases the factories gave their help a choice between a temporary cut in wages or a shut-down. The reduction was accepted; but May day was the time very generally fixed for demanding the restoration of the old wage scale. Here in Lowell there was a strike at the Carpet mill on Market street, now known as the Riegelow, and used during the war as a munition plant operated by the United States Cartridge company. The old Sun speaking of the strike said: "The strike on the Carpet is on. Promptly at 11 a. m. 600 ingrain weavers prepared to leave their work and shortly after they left the mill, carrying their effects with them. In going out they were joined by 20 woolen spinners. It is said that the jack spinners who furnish yarn for the Brussels department will go out. A Sun reporter was courteously received by Agent Lyon, who gave out the following statement: "The help stopped their looms at 11 o'clock and went out in a very orderly manner. They felt they could not afford to continue working 30 hours a week at the rate of wages paid them by the company. "The company feels it cannot accede to their demands without still further loss to its business with the condition of the trade as it is at present." Another strike occurred at Stoll's mill on Lawrence street, where according to the old Sun about 200 operatives reported at the mill at 6:30 o'clock and after an interview with Agent Walker went out again. They demanded the restoration of the wage scale that was in force before the cut-down which was 10 to 15 per cent. The wages in cotton mills then did not average a dollar a day. It was a little higher in woolen mills and still higher in carpet mills. The strikes declared about that time, were mostly settled by the restoration of all or at least 50 per cent of the wages taken away some time previous.

May Day Knuts

From the old Sun. "A pretty May day wedding was that held at the future home of the young couple on Ralph street. The bride was Miss Helen W. Hinkley and the groom Mr. Ernest Leroy Bryant, second lieutenant in the Cadets and a trusted employee of H. B. Shattuck & Son. "Rev. Dr. B. G. Seymour officiated and many friends witnessed the happy event. The bride was attended by Miss Emma Emery and Miss Anna Perkins, and the groom by Mr. Harry E. Hinkley, the bride's brother. Miss Nellie Bryant was maid of honor. Stewart-Briggs

"Mr. Thomas Stewart and Miss Sarah J. Briggs, were married yesterday by Rev. Dr. Robert Court. Miss Annie Stewart, sister of the groom, was bridesmaid and Mr. Thomas Briggs was best man." Keeper-Douglass

The following story from the old

Sun recalls a comical incident that caused considerable talk at the time in old ward three:

"A good story is told of how a keeper was removed from a Garham street drug store last week. "He was a good natured sort of a fellow and although a 'keeper,' he was not unwilling to accept a treat from a few friends who called to pay their respects.

"His friends seemed delighted that he was placed in charge of a store and to celebrate the event they went out and returned with a can of beer which had been specially prepared to relieve him for a time of the cares of his new position. He imbibed freely but the supply was soon exhausted. Then his friends looked around in the store until they found a jug of whiskey of the very brand they wanted. The most noted brand sold anywhere in the third ward used to be known as 'Jersey lightning,' but another now takes the place of this. It is known as 'undertaker's delight.' The keeper took a few drinks of 'undertaker's delight' and was then invited outside the door to see something not very remarkable, while a man inside with a key remained to lock the keeper out. The keeper suspected something and re-entered suddenly. The scheme did not work as they had anticipated so they resorted to 'undertaker's delight' once more. A big word fire was lighted that made the place almost unbearably hot and with a few drinks of the deadly liquor the keeper was soon dead asleep in his chair. Then he was carried outside and left in the chair on the sidewalk snoring loudly while the boys arranged things to suit themselves in the store. A police officer came along and found the man who was unable to tell his name or where he belonged. Somebody who knew him, however, volunteered to have him removed to his home and the officer let him go. "He says now that he never before got so drunk with so little whiskey."

Passage to Europe

It was like a picnic to go to Europe quarter of a century ago, as the following from the old Sun will indicate: "The steamship companies of continental Europe have pooled interests. They are opposed by the British companies. The former pool has started a line from Queenstown and Liverpool to this country, thereby invading the business of the British companies. About the middle of May the steamer rate will drop to $11 and others accordingly."

At present the "steamer" is called third class and the rate is $53, including $3 war tax. The second cabin rate is $30 and $25, according to steamer, this including a $3 war tax. OLD TIMER

PATRONAGE GROWS FOR CHIC GARMENTS

Lowell women who take pleasure in possessing under garments of fine quality of material and workmanship will no doubt profit from visiting and becoming acquainted with the lines of women's wear on sale at the "Chic" store, 50 Central street. It is really wonderful to list the number of articles of women's wear on sale at this store.

Four nationally advertised brands of corsets are carried in stock in all sizes and styles. Nemo, P. & N., Bon Ton and Royal Worcester. The Carter and Forest Mills brands of women's knit underwear are carried in stock and the De Bavoise brassiere, an article that fastidious women believe exceeds other brassieres. The Little Beauty Waists for children is found to be a good seller.

One specialty of this store is in fitting the large sizes of underwear. Oftentimes large women complain that in ordinary lingerie departments they cannot get fitted in sets of undergarments. The "Chic" store asserts that it positively can do this and will even go to the extent of placing a special order if necessary with the Whitehall Manufacturing company, whose factory is here in Lowell and whose complete line of products in ladies' undergarments is sold at this store. Many prospective brides and school and college seniors, instead of having wedding and graduating sets of underwear made at home, go to the "Chic" store and not only get fitted quickly and with dispatch, but at the one time can make a selection from any one of the scores of different styles of underwear on sale at the "Chic" store. Miss Ruth Bateman represents Mr. Albert L. Paul, owner of the store, as manager and, although Miss Bateman has been in Lowell only a little more than a year, the number of customers of the "Chic" store is increasing in a gratifying manner, due in some part at least, to Miss Bateman's knowledge of this branch of the women's wear business, and her pleasing personality as a saleswoman.

STOMACH UPSET?

Get at the Real Cause—Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

That's what thousands of stomach sufferers are doing now. Instead of taking tonics, or trying to patch up a poor digestion, they are attacking the real cause of the ailment—clogged liver and disordered bowels.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets arouse the liver in a soothing, healing way. When the liver and bowels are performing their natural functions, away goes indigestion and stomach troubles.

If you have a bad taste in your mouth, tongue coated, appetite poor, lazy, don't-care feeling, no ambition or energy, troubled with undigested foods, you should take Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound mixed with olive oil. You will know them by their olive color. They do the work without gripping, cramps or pain.

Take one or two at bedtime for quick relief, so you can eat what you like. At 10c and 25c per box. All druggists.

MEXICO'S CAR OF LOOT AND DEATH SKIDS FROM CRIME TO POLITICS

Auto of Terrorism New Grim Factor in Political Regeneration --- Loot of Car Estimated as High as $5,000,000

MEXICO CITY, May 3.—The grey automobile and its band of super-crooks, which for a long time terrorized this city and which is Mexico's contribution to the world's great crime mysteries, has skidded from the realm of banditry into that of politics.

Where nightly it carried a king's ransom in stolen gold and jewels, the automobile "gris" (grey) now whisks about the fortunes of statesmen, generals and political buccaners.

The echoes of its engines sing a different, though none the less grim tune through the streets of the capital.

Death, disgrace, high scandal and low, have followed the wake of its motorized exhaust—and the mystery today is as far from solution as it was a few months since when the automobile "gris" held the headlines of Mexico's papers and baffled its military and its civil sleuths.

Wheeled Terror

The juggernaut has become a dread tradition.

Prominent personages were linked with its nefarious operations. Men connected the names of personal enemies and political rivals with its crimes. No official was safe from its iniquity. Women frightened naughty children with its threat. It became a weapon in dirty politics.

This was in 1916. When the car ceased its operations it was announced certain members of the auto band were in prison.

Francisco Orozco and Juan Mercadante, petty half-world figures; David Brown, a Jamaican negro, and two other slum crooks, and been caught—but not an official.

Puppets Killed

Mexico waited eagerly for a confession. Then came the announcement that Orozco, chauffeur of the car, was about to talk.

Next morning he was found in his cell—strangled.

Mercadante became talkative. He was found dead in his cell—poisoned.

Mexico City was convinced that guile officials were responsible for these deaths to prevent the puppets from exposing the crime masters.

The first scandalously tangible clue came from a woman—La Conesa, a beautiful Spanish actress who for a decade had been the idol of the theatrical and back-stage world.

Dancer Accused

At the Theatre Principal one evening she stepped upon the stage wearing a gorgeous collar of diamonds, rubies and pearls.

A woman in the audience looked. "Mine," she said wildly.

A hurried call brought Gen. Pablo Gonzalez, commander of the army of the Oriente.

He stripped the jewels from the actress' neck.

La Conesa declared the collar was presented to her by one of her admirers—Juan Merigo, a Carrancista general.

Details of the operations of the mystery car began to pour forth. Other victims told their stories.

It was always the same. The car would draw up in front of the house, invariably the home of a wealthy family. Its occupants would present a warrant, supposedly signed by a high army officer, ordering a search of the house for secreted arms and ammunition.

Loot $5,000,000

No arms were ever found except those planted by the searchers. It is said. With the departure of the phantom car also went the family jewels, gold, silver, all portable treasure. Death threats silenced the victims.

The loot of the car is estimated as high as $5,000,000.

With Conesa's admission, Juan Merigo died. Later he returned, was court-martialed—acquitted.

The mystery of the phantom car is still far from a solution. It has degenerated into a filthy, slanderous, political weapon, its latest victim being Gen. Pablo Gonzalez, one of the more honest Carranza leaders.

Political Weapon

In an effort to strangle his candidacy for the presidency enemies scattered posters, supposedly signed by Gen. Alvaro Obregon and other high chiefs, demanding the removal of Gonzalez from the army and his trial as chief of the automobile gris band. An investigation showed that every name attached to the letter was a forgery, that not one of the alleged signers had even suspected the general. All declared their belief that he was beyond reproach.

Some believe the authors of the forged document were directors of the phantom car attempting to throw the blame on an innocent man—a man who has stayed relentlessly on the trail.

That some army officer was the chief of the auto gang is generally believed. That he will never be caught is almost a foregone conclusion.

Lady Lookabout

There is, or should be, in every American woman, a feeling of resentment toward editors of women's magazines who fling and fawn over Paris as the fashion centre of the world. There is no doubt that pretty things come from Paris. Articles also have been known to have their origin there. So may the same be said of the output of any dressmaker. The point is, why be such slaves to Paris? One well known magazine which caters exclusively to the whims of women quotes Paris continually: "Paris says," "In Paris," "Paris declares," and the like. How the American woman who lives in the one country that all over the world stands for freedom and liberty, can stand for the tyranny of these editors, I cannot understand. As a matter of fact, I have it on good authority that the women of Paris dress very simply, but that Parisian designers cater to the American woman's strong desire for the unusual, and often the atrocious purchased by buyers for some American stores are considered a national joke by that same Paris.

The Women's Vote

That the west will without question decide on the next president was made certain when presidential suffrage was granted to the women of Iowa. There are now in this country fifteen and a half millions of women entitled to vote for president. The 800,000 new women voters add thirteen electoral votes, making 302 in the choice of which women have a voice. Iowa is the eighth state to confer presidential suffrage on its women, the others being Indiana, Maine, Minnesota, Vermont, Missouri, Wisconsin and Tennessee. Only in one state west of the Mississippi, New Mexico, the women do not exercise presidential suffrage. Many and Vermont are leading the way in New England, while Tennessee has proved that the south is not solidly against woman suffrage.

Every new discovery, invention and development adds new words and new phrases to our language. Of late I have come across one which is most satisfying to me. It may be as old as the hills, but in its new application I like it. It is the expression used in the peace league by the lesser nations in their pleas for independence. The phrase is "self determination." Why should not a nation determine for itself whether or not it shall be subservient and obedient to another nation which happens to be stronger? There is a dignity about this expression that is bound to make an appeal. Personally, I have always detested the slogan, "Votes for women," yet what does it mean that "self determination" is not that women seek to determine for themselves just what their political status shall be, rather than have others, not of them, determine it for them? Think it over and see if "self determination" is not a satisfying expression.

The New Federal Tax

The new federal tax which went into effect on the first day of the month was anticipated by many advertisers in magazines which make their appearance previous to the date on the front cover. As I write, there lies before me a well known magazine which appears on news-stands fully two weeks before the month for which it is designed. In a page given over to the manufacture of high class gossip, the price of each is given, the federal tax, and the sum of both. Judging by this advertisement, women are going to feel the effect of this tax quite heavily. One gown priced at $27.50 is taxed $1.25; another at $23.50 carries an additional $1.45; one at $45 carries a tax of $3 and so on. As the tax is ten per cent, on the amount over a certain figure, it is evident that a gown costing over $15 is classed as a luxury and taxed accordingly. As a matter of fact, it is impossible today to find even the most modest gown in silk or wool or linen for $15. Cotton one may find. It is safe to assume that every tax causes some hardship. This is a striking instance and, let us hope, may be adjusted when its unfairness is realized by our men law makers. It is another case where one-half the people must obey without question or protest the laws made by the other half. Had a woman been on the board that arranged this particular bit of taxation, I wager that $15 would never have been placed as the point where a necessity like a gown would become a luxury.

In Blood Diseases

Like Scrofula, Eczema and Many Skin Troubles

As well as a general Spring medicine for catarrh, rheumatism, dyspepsia, Hood's Sarsaparilla is of great value to men, women, children.

It does its thorough work in these well-defined diseases by cleansing the blood, on the pure, healthy condition of which depend the vigor and tone of the whole system.

Hood's Sarsaparilla is equally successful in the treatment of troubles that are not so well defined—caused of a low or run-down condition or general debility, loss of appetite and that tired feeling, or cases in which we know very plainly after-effects of the worry and anxiety caused by the world war and the debility following the grip, influenza and fever. In all such ailments it has accomplished a wonderful amount of good.

Hood's Pills help as a stomach-tonic, digestive, cathartic.

"OLD LADY 31" FRESH FROM NEW YORK AND BOSTON AT LOWELL OPERA HOUSE

Score another ten-strike for Manager Carroll of the Emerson All Star Players. When the stock season opened several months ago he gave the patrons of Lowell and vicinity the assurance that only the latest and best stage attractions would be considered for local production and he has lived up to his promise faithfully. Last week's offering was one of the very latest releases for stock, and for the coming week he is to present Rachael Crothers' recent stage success, "Old Lady 31," a different sort of play in three parts in which Emma Dunn scored signal success during its appearance at the 25th Street theatre, N. Y., and later at the Plymouth theatre, Boston.

The story has to do with an elderly couple who, after 35 years of married life, encounter financial difficulties, and the old lady is forced to take up her abode at the Old Ladies' home, and the old man due to go to the poor house. The old ladies, contrary to the sacred rule of the past, agree to take the old man in and thus satisfy his aged wife her one desire not to be separated from him. He is admitted and generally adopted by the elderly women. He is eventually given the name of "Old Lady 31." Much good comedy and pleasant balancing of pathos intermingled in the course of the three acts the combine in making a genuinely good vehicle of entertainment. There is good heartiness and many pleasing characters involved, while the staging of the play adds materially to its successful presentation. Miss Jane Salisbury, whose part she took last week, earned her merited recognition, will appear in a new part, that of an aged woman, and Julian Noa will be seen as the old gentleman. Both should win added laurels during the week. Miss Louise Girard-Huntington's mother, who has not appeared on the stage in 35 years, will be seen in the role of the grand-mother, and the other members of the cast will be seen in good parts. This piece has been produced but three times in stock up to date, once by the S. B. Post Stock company at New Haven and the Albee Stock company at Providence, R. I.

It's a play with a different sort of story and atmosphere than any heretofore given on the local stage, and should win general appreciation from the patrons. Order your tickets early and avoid disappointment. Tel. 261.

"OUT OF THE FOG," THE FEATURE OFFERING ON PROGRAM AT THE STRAND

The great Nazimova, international stage and screen star, in her latest, and considered by some her best film endeavor, "Out of the Fog" will be the feature offering on the program at The Strand for the first part of the week. Mae Marsh in "Spotlight Sadie" will be the other feature. For the last three days Evelyn Nesbit in "Thou Shalt Not" and the new stars, Albert Ray and Elinor Fair in "Married in Haste," will be shown. The usual added attractions will be on the bill, and Miss Mildred Efford will be the week's soloist.

The sacred concert on Sunday will have as its feature "Tom Brown's Constables," a sextet of versatile instrumentalists. The other vaudeville numbers will be Hazel Childs, the Wallers, Lewis and Grace Harvey and Joseph Fioriani. Ten reels of superlative pictures will be shown.

Nazimova, supreme star of the stage has achieved an added triumph in her latest screen production, "Out of the Fog," which will be featured for the first three days of the week. This play is an adaptation for the screen from her greatest stage success, "CEPTION SHOALS," a play which created such comment, both here and abroad, and which was noted for the intensity of its dramatic situations. Madame Nazimova is an actress of unique and original talent. She is known as the woman of a thousand moods and her art is as great in light fantastic or whimsical moments as it is in the play's emotional drama for which she is internationally famed. "Out of the Fog" is a story of a girl who had to play the part of a girl who had to play the role of this unhappy girl in the early part of the picture. Nazimova is next seen as Eva, the little daughter grown to beautiful girlhood upon a lonely island in the Caribbean sea. Under the stern guardianship of her harsh and narrow uncle who has never forgiven his sister for her unhappy love, the child is brought up without human companionship other than his own. Dressed in boy's clothing, and roaming the lonely beach of the tiny island she grows to womanhood before she sees for the first time beings of the outer world. One day out of the fog, a yacht is stranded on the hidden shoals, and the owner, a powerful young American comes to the island for help. Here romance begins and Nazimova is seen in her many fascinating and alluring moods.

The coming of Mae Marsh in what is said to be one of her best pictorializations, will be another excellent feature for the first of the week. It is "Spotlight Sadie," and presents the appealing story in precisely the sort of a role she is best equipped to play. A riot and Jeff comedy, one of the latest pin-up-erations, and the most recent Universal Weekly will help make the bill superior in all respects. The week's soloists will be Mildred Efford. "Thou Shalt Not" will appear in her greatest film attraction, "Thou Shalt Not," the story of a modern Magdalen.

Albert Ray and Elinor Fair, the new William Fox players, will be seen in a comedy drama, "Married in Haste." Mr. Ray has been engaged as the star. It was the remarkable talent displayed by both these young people on the screen. It is said, that caused Mr. Fox to place them on his list.

Tom Mix comedy, one of these rip-roarin' creations with all kinds of good humor in the action and story, will be an added attraction with the newest Universal Weekly and the latest song numbers will help round out a bill that will commend itself to all.

Don't miss seeing Nazimova in "Out of the Fog." It's her supreme effort, and remember that it's being presented the first three days of the week.

SEND ENOUGH FOOD TO KEEP GERMANS ALIVE

NEW YORK, May 3.—The supreme council of supply and relief is selling to Germany monthly 370,000 tons of foodstuffs, as compared with the Teuton demand for 410,000 tons, Dr. Vernon L. Kellogg, representative of Herbert Hoover, recently returned from a survey of conditions in Central Europe, announced here last night at the offices of the American relief administration.

This allowance, with minor imports from contiguous neutral lands in Dr. Kellogg's opinion would keep the Germans "alive and going."

Coincidentally with Dr. Kellogg's statement as to the rationing system adopted for Germany, the American relief administration made public a joint report to Mr. Hoover, as head of the supreme council of supply and relief, by Mr. Kellogg and Alanzo K. Taylor on a survey of Germany completed late in February. The investigators recommended admission of foodstuffs to the country as conducive to the maintenance of public order and social tranquility.

The two observers found the Germans "underfed, underweight, disillusioned, apathetic, embittered and afflicted with profound moral degeneration." There was little civic conscience, they asserted and idle men and women were drifting into crime. Of the Ebert government, the investigators confessed little respect "for its quality policies or authority."

It was exploiting Bolshevism, they asserted, by holding up possible Bolshevik dominance of Germany as a threat to the outside world. It was also making false pretenses regarding lack of food and its effects cultivating a "revenge idea" against the entente and continuing their imperial policy which held that only "the old gang"—experienced politicians—were fit to hold office.

To this phase of the report Dr. Kellogg added, his opinion, formed with the progress of the peace conference, that the Ebert government would pass through a crisis in signing a peace dictated by the associated powers, which is might not survive.

POLICE ARREST BOYS

Two Lowell boys were arrested by Lieut. Maher and Sergt. Dowling today, and charged with breaking and entering the store of Julius Nadeau, 205 Woburn street, and stealing cigars and candy. The alleged break occurred about a week ago, the boys making an entrance by breaking glass in the front window. The names given by the boys were Adelard and Ovilla Laferge.

LOWELL GIRLS AT DEVENS

Thirty girls of the Community Service club went to the Soldiers' club at Ayer last night to enjoy one of the usual happy dancing parties. They were most cordially received and asked to come again. The girls were chaperoned by Miss Cronin, Mrs. Heslian and Mrs. Turner. The regular service men's dance will be held in the club rooms in the Runels building tonight, and the club will hold open house tomorrow afternoon and evening. Fully 200 of the club girls are going to march in the Centralville home-coming parade to be held on May 10.

MRS. ANNA SEWARD DEAD

NEW YORK, May 3.—Mrs. Anna M. Seward, widow of Frederick W. Seward, who narrowly escaped being killed when his father, William H. Seward was attacked, at the time President Lincoln was assassinated, died yesterday. She was more than 80 years old.

LOCAL COMMUNITY SERVICE CLUB

Through the diligence and progressiveness of the local Community Service club for girls, Lowell women and girls will have the splendid opportunity on May 16 to hear Mrs. Percy V. Pennypacker, one of the most brilliant and talented women in the country, address a mass meeting on the topic, "What Our Country Today Demands of Its Girls." Mrs. Pennypacker will speak at the Community Service club in the Runels building on the evening of the 16th, and it is hoped to hold a large public reception for her in the afternoon.

Probably no woman is better known in the country today for her high ideals, executive ability, patriotism and wise counsel. She is at present the special representative for girls' work of the National War Camp Community service. A past president of the National Federation of Women's clubs, her thousand and one public activities have kept her in the public eye for many years. She is one of the women trustees of the New York Chautauque Institute, president of the Chautauque Women's club, a member of the board of directors of the Leslie Women's Suffrage commission, one of the advisory board of the Women of the national democratic executive committee, and also has found time to serve as chairman of the child welfare committee of the National Suffrage association, and as a speaker for the Y. W. C. A. war council and the United States food administration.

Her executive ability and far-sightedness had its birth in Texas, where she lived for many years. She served as president of the Texas State Federation of Women's clubs for two years; was treasurer of the National Federation for two years, acted as chairman of the national program committee for two years and was president of the Federation from 1912 to 1916. It was during this time that she came into unusual prominence, and it was not surprising that the war work council should turn first to her when plans for community work for girls were agitated. She comes to Lowell with a pertinent message, and her presence will immeasurably further the cause of work for girls in this city. Further details in connection with the mass meeting and reception will be given at a later date.

ALL AMERICANS HOME BY SEPT.

Pres. Wilson Determined To Have Troops Out of Europe as Soon as Possible

General March Hastening Demobilization in This Country

WASHINGTON, May 3.—(Determination of President Wilson, indicated in press despatches from Paris, that no American troops shall continue on German soil for a longer period after the signing of the peace treaty than may be necessary to embark them for home, is borne out by present plans of the war department, which contemplate the return of the entire American Expeditionary Forces by September. Because of this Gen. March, chief of staff, is making every effort to speed up the demobilization in this country.

An official announcement issued yesterday as to the accumulation of surplus clothing for the troops stated that the estimates were based on "troop withdrawal to be completed in September."

The statement also said that "if an army of occupation is maintained after September a portion of this surplus will be needed."

This computation was taken to reflect exactly the present information of the department as to future troop movements.

The September date represents estimates by embarkation officials as to the maximum possible speed in withdrawing the entire force in Europe, including the troops holding the Coblenz bridgehead section on the Rhine. If anything, officers anticipate that the movement will be accelerated rather than retarded. The schedule has been exceeded recently and in increasing measure from week to week with an indicated monthly movement of 450,000 men, the best predictions of Gen. March and his aides bid fair, it was said, to be more than realized.

BIRTHDAY PARTY

An enjoyable party was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Maxwell, 1161 Lawrence street, Thursday, when their daughter, Gwendolyn, was assisted in observing her 16th birthday. The evening was spent in games and music. Lunch was served during the evening and Miss Gwendolyn received many dainty gifts from out of town. Master Donald Parker presented her a beautiful silver ring in honor of her young friends. A pretty feature of the evening was the presentation of a basket of 16 roses concealing a gold wrist watch, the gift of her father and mother.

just what to do to keep her family rugged and well. She believed in nature's remedy, the life-giving juices of leaves, roots and herbs, which have been a standard and favorite remedy for indigestion, constipation, kidney, liver and stomach troubles for nearly 50 years.

You cannot be constipated and happy at the same time. If you have a bad taste in the mouth, foul breath, furrowed tongue, dull headaches, drowsiness, disturbed sleep, mental depression, yellowish skin, then you are constipated, and SEVEN BARKS will quickly relieve this disorder, which is the result of liver derangement, and severe digestive disturbances.

Be prepared for these emergencies: always keep SEVEN BARKS on hand, and take from 10 to 20 drops in a little water after meals, and it will quickly cause the bowels and liver to act normally.

If you want to get the greatest efficiency out of your body, you should take SEVEN BARKS, so that the stomach may do its best work, and not be handicapped by the burdens of food. Sometimes put upon it. For sale by druggists. Price, 50 cents per bottle.—Adv.

DANCES BY MISS

PERRIN'S PUPILS

Pupils of Miss L. B. Perrin, who has conducted a dancing class in Lowell for several seasons, furnished an enjoyable evening in the Highland club house last evening where they gathered in an exhibition of interpretative classic and modern dancing for the benefit of the public. General dancing was later enjoyed until midnight, Hubbard's orchestra furnishing music.

The program introduced novel dances and specialties in which young girls, ranging from six to 14 years of age, appeared prettily costumed and charmed the large audience which had turned out for the annual event. Perhaps one of the best numbers of the evening was the Dance De Mour, given by the two Dewire sisters, Marie and Dora, and all the little misses who followed or preceded this clever little pair were also well received.

The matrons were Mrs. J. F. Connors, Mrs. J. J. Conley, Mrs. C. L. Finner, Mrs. A. A. Parent, Mrs. G. M. Smith, Mrs. W. J. Morey and Mrs. L. Carr. The ushers were G. S. Gracie, H. R. Jennings, H. E. Shedd, R. O. REAL ESTATE PAGE

The dance program was as follows: Rose Dance, George and Richard; Shren Trews, Marion Barrett; La Pappillon, Margaret Mooney; Colonial Minuet, Helen Shea; Norbert Parent; Irish Jig, Helena Connors; Flower Dance, Alice Faneuf; Dance of Spring; Bertha Barrett; Sailors' Hornpipe; Helena Connors; Lily Ballet, Annabel Perry; Mildred Kilpatrick; Louise Adams; Mary Maguire; Mary Drouin; Marion Barrett; Mabel Stanton; Josephine McCaughy; Estelle Miller; Beatrice Sophia Altamir; Spirit of Dawn, Alice Fielding; Dance of Summer, Estelle Buckley; Helena Connors; Helen Rigby; Helen Shea; Grace Swallow; Margaret Drouin; John Bourgeois; Iron Carp; Hindustan; Ellen Markham; Dragon Fly; Mary Coughlin; Aviation Dance, Helen Connors; Pierrette Dance, Leona Bosse; Spanish Dance, Madeline McLaughlin; Daisy Boulger; Pony Trot, Helen Dorian; Annabel Perry; Diana Dance, Mabel Boughner; Joan of Arc, Alice Faneuf; Wood Nymph; Gwendolyn Smith; Madeline; Louise Normandy; Maid of the Mist, Helen Dorian; Victory Dance, Evelyn Whitcomb; Ron Ron Dance, Helen Normandy; Toe Dance, Doris Conley; Dance De Mour; Doris Dewire; Marie Dewire; Le Belle Marie; Annabel Perry; Flower Pages; Masters Eliot Perrin and Norbert Parent; pianist, Mrs. Helen Blair.

THANK LOWELL AND LOWELL PEOPLE

CAMP DEVENS, Ayer, May 3.—The Knights of Columbus War Activities at Camp Devens have given out the following statement to newspaper correspondents, and it has been published in the Camp Press:

"Sincere gratification is felt at Camp Devens for the untiring efforts of the Lowell Council, 72, Knights of Columbus. From the very first, every possible service it was in their power to render was given readily to men in khaki from this cantonment. Furnishing sleeping quarters, providing entertainment, and in 100 different ways, both the citizens of Lowell, and the members of the Lowell Council have displayed that unselfish service to soldiers and sailors which at once marks the public spirited person, and the devoted patriot.

"The soldiers who have been stationed at Camp Devens in tens of thousands, owe much to the people of the city of Lowell, who caught the gospel of service from the start."

ONE KILLED, 5 INJURED

Theatrical Auto Party in Accident on Ocean Drive —Car Over Embankment

NEWPORT, R. I., May 3.—Cyril de For, a professional dancer, was instantly killed and his wife, two other women and another man, all members of a theatrical company, were injured in an automobile accident here early today. Chief Machinist's Mate Francis Finn of this city, owner and driver of the machine in which they were riding, received slight injuries.

An accident to the steering gear as the car was on Ocean drive, caused the machine to leave the road and go over a 15-foot embankment onto the beach.

VICTORY LOAN TOTAL

$1,575,000,000

WASHINGTON, May 3.—Total subscriptions to the Victory loan today passed $1,575,000,000. The treasury today renewed its appeal to loan organizations to perfect their salesmanship plans for house to house canvasses next week, the last week of the campaign.

"Very slight improvement of interest was reported from the districts," said the treasury's review. "The nation is so far behind schedule on subscriptions that it will be necessary to raise an average of approximately $500,000,000 a day during the remainder of the loan period to reach the $4,500,000,000 goal."

TWO KILLED IN

AIRPLANE ACCIDENT

PANAMA, May 3.—Major R. M. Clark of California and Lieut. R. G. Tokin of Atlanta, Ga., were killed in an airplane accident at Miraflores Locks, yesterday. Lieut. J. L. Hill was slightly injured.

Major Clark and Lieut. Tokin were passengers in a hydro-airplane driven by Lieut. Hill. Because of engine trouble, the machine was flying low. It cleared the first gate of the lower lock chamber, but struck the second gate, upsetting and throwing the three men into the water.

WILL LOOK AFTER

THE G.A.R. MEN

With Memorial day falling in the current month, local military organizations are formulating plans for its observance, and among them, the Sons of Veterans. As in past years this organization will look after the G.A.R. men with every degree of forethought and will see to it that the veterans of '61 to '65 have one more of their few remaining memorable days for the purpose of honoring the memories of their departed comrades. The complete program for the 30th is not ready but in part it will consist of the decoration of graves in the several cemeteries and the memorial services conducted by the different posts during the forenoon.

Post 12 will decorate the graves in the Catholic and Old English cemeteries; Post 120 will go to the Edison and Westlaw cemeteries; Post 185, the Lowell cemetery; Farragut post, Sons of Veterans, the Hildreth cemetery, and Adelbert Ames camp, Spanish War Veterans, the Woodbine, French Catholic and School street cemeteries. Automobiles, loaned by Lowell men, will be used to take the veterans to and from these services. The securing of the automobiles is in the hands of Lucius A. Derby, assisted by William L. Dickey and L. F. Munroe.

LODGE COMPLAINT

WITH THE MAYOR

A committee representing the Teamsters' union called on Mayor Thompson today to protest against the hours of employment of one, Walter O'Brien, who works at the Chelmsford Street hospital as a general teamster.

O'Brien is a member of the union. He now receives $13 a week and found, while other teamsters receive $2.50 per day. Supt. Martin Conley was called into the conference and it was explained to the delegation that civil service regulations provide that all employees of an institution of the nature of the Chelmsford Street hospital shall be classed either as "mechanics" or "farmers." O'Brien is in the latter class in his civil service rating and may be worked overtime, if his employer wishes it. A "mechanic" can work only eight hours a day. This fact was brought out to the delegation and they were shown why it was legal to employ O'Brien more than the regular union hours.

Some startling seismograph records of earthquakes, for which Prof. Keeler at Kansas university could not account, were explained when the professor finally noticed some spider webs on his arm after he had been investigating the situation, and found on further investigation that a tribe of spiders had selected the glass case of the seismograph as a home for their families, and had ranged the astonishing records by attaching their webs to the recording needles.

RIVET IS CONFIDENT OF BEATING REED

George Rivet, the Canadian welterweight champion, reports that he is in perfect condition for his bout at the Triangle A. C. next Tuesday evening with Ed Reed, of Minneapolis. Rivet has been training for the past six weeks and expressed great confidence in his ability to stop the westerner. While in Canada, Rivet met all the good welters, including Ted Lewis, who at that time was the welterweight champion of the world. Rivet stayed the entire ten rounds with the title holder, and while he lost the decision, he made a splendid showing. Reed, who is now in Boston training for the mill, has informed Matchmaker Mahan that he will be in good condition when the bell rings Tuesday night. Young Avilla and Young Newcomb, both local boys, will appear in the semi-final and there will be two good preliminaries.

BOYLE TRAINING FOR CARLSON BOUT

Phinney Boyle who staged such a successful "come back" by winning over the sensational Louisiana here Thursday night, started training today for his bout with Harry Carlson of Brooklyn which will be the main attraction at the Crescent A. C. next Thursday night. Boyle is very anxious to win over Carlson and is working out the decision Carlson registered against him a few weeks ago. Ever since that reverse Boyle has been angling for a return match, and with several Boston clubs, the Brooklyn promoters and others after the bout the Crescent directors made a ten strike in getting it for this city. With a large advance demand for reservations the directors have decided to put them on sale Monday. There will be no increase in the assessment but it behooves the members to step lively, as the number is limited. Billy Woods of the Radio school will meet in the semi-final.

Red Sox Turned Back by
"Reb" Russell, 3 to 1

BOSTON, May 3.—Russell kept Boston's hits beautifully scattered yesterday and led New York to a 3 to 1 victory. A wild throw by Jones was responsible for one run. Huggins shifted to a spiballer, and had the Red Sox hitters helpless with the exception of Everett Scott, who collected two singles and a double. Boston would have been shut out only for a bad throw by Ruel to catch Scott on third. The score:
New York 3, Boston 1.
Detroit 13, Cleveland 8.
St. Louis 11, Chicago 4.
Washington 7, Philadelphia 2.
Batteries: Russell and Ruel; Jones and Walters.

DETROIT 14, CLEVELAND 6

CLEVELAND, May 3.—Detroit defeated Cleveland yesterday 14 to 6. Fletcher Baxby was forced to retire with a strained side when in the lead and each of his successors had a bad lining.

Cleveland drove James from the box but could not overcome Detroit's lead. Veach returned to the Detroit team and made two singles, a double and a triple in four times at bat, driving in three runs and scoring two. The score:
Detroit 14, Cleveland 6.
James, Pauss, Cunningham and Stanage, Baxby, Ennamann, Cumble, Enale, Uhl and Nunamaker.

WASHINGTON 7, PHILADELPHIA 2

PHILADELPHIA, May 3.—Washington beat Philadelphia 7 to 2 in the opening game of the American league here yesterday. A reception to Admiral Sims in connection with the Liberty loan campaign caused the cancellation of the exercises originally intended to open the local season. Shaw was largely responsible for the Senators' triumph. In his first two times at bat he sent the ball into the left field bleachers for home runs. He held Philadelphia to a single by Thomas up to the fifth inning, but in the sixth they bunched four singles and with Duncan's hit to center, the Athletics scored two runs. Johnson was then substituted and held the locals safe. The score:
Washington 7, Philadelphia 2.
Shaw, Johnson and Pielnich; Kenney, Seibold, Anderson and Perkins. McAvoy.

ST. LOUIS 11, CHICAGO 4

CHICAGO, May 3.—St. Louis inaugurated the American league season here yesterday with an 11 to 4 victory over the White Sox. Gallia held the home team to five hits while the Browns batted three Sox pitchers for 16 safeties, seven of them for two bases. The opening day ceremonies was featured by the presence of a squad of marines, who hoisted a new United States flag, assisted by Eddie Collins, captain of the White Sox, who enlisted in the Marine Corps at the end of the last season. The score:
St. Louis 11, Chicago 4.
Chicago 4, Philadelphia 2.

It's true "there's nothing can compare with real hand cutting and stitching in making men's clothes." We realize this and you should.

Therefore, we have gone to the one available source to get real hand-tailored clothes for you; ready to wear, yet minus the usual price penalty.

HIRSCH, WICKWIRE CO. has the courage to employ real tailoring skill in clothes making. They cut and stitch by hand. They don't make as many garments perhaps as others do, but they make them so much better that the best dressed men in America insist on having them.

Being the best clothes we can find, of course we want you to enjoy wearing them

Havoc With Boston, 3 to 0

BROOKLYN, May 3.—Brooklyn opened its home season yesterday with a shut-out victory of Boston, 3 to 0. Pfeffer and Rudolph staged a pitchers' battle until the eighth inning, when Krueger's triple drove in two runs. Maloney's single in the fourth scored Wheat with the first run for the home team. Kelley of Boston struck out his first three times at bat. The score:
Brooklyn 3, Boston 0.
Batteries: Pfeffer and Krueger; Rudolph and Wilson.

ST. LOUIS 8, CINCINNATI 1

ST. LOUIS, May 3.—Three St. Louis pitchers allowed Cincinnati but two hits, and the locals won yesterday's game, 8 to 1. Tugan, who pitched 1-2 innings, was largely responsible for the victory, scoring two runs and driving in three more. The score:
St. Louis 8, Cincinnati 1.
Cincinnati 0, Philadelphia 2.
Batteries: Harstman, Goodwin, Tugan and Snyder; Rulien, Ring and Ralston.

CHICAGO 4, PITTSBURGH 2

PITTSBURGH, May 3.—Chicago defeated Pittsburgh in the opening game here yesterday, 4 to 2. Each team used three pitchers. Mayer's head was split by a liner from Tollercher's bat in the

Tyler burl his side in the fifth inning and Martin, who relieved him, allowed the locals two runs while on the rubber. When the first man up tripled in the sixth, he was replaced by Douglas. The score:
Pittsburg 2, New York 1.
Batteries: Tyler, Martin, Douglas and Kullier; Mayer, Evans, Adams and Schmidt.

NEW YORK 14, PHILADELPHIA 2

NEW YORK, May 3.—The New York Nationals opened their home season yesterday with an easy victory over Philadelphia, 14 to 2. The Giants pounded Watson hard, getting 14 hits for a total of 24 bases, while Barnes was effective throughout. The game, which was preceded by the usual ceremonies, was attended by Maj. Gen. Thomas Barry and his staff. The score:

DON'T WASTE WASTE

Housewives Should Discriminate in Disposing of Rubbish From Housecleaning

Don't throw away your rubbish, Mrs. Housewife, before giving a little thought to the question of how you can use it to do the most good.

From the management of the Lowell Guild comes the announcement that they will conduct their annual waste collecting campaign for the purpose of raising funds of which they are in urgent need. The past year has been one of stress and struggle, and now new demands are pressing.

In making this announcement the Lowell Guild hopes that every Lowell woman will save for their campaign the sort of rubbish desired, which includes all such things as: Rugs, unwearable old clothing such as worn-out suits, stockings, underwear, shirts, sweaters, shawls, scarfs, knitted caps and mittens, overcoats, etc., all kinds of old and useless carpets and rugs, old rubber footwear, automobile tires, hot water bags, and covers of copper, brass, lead, tin, old plated ware, etc.

The government has tabulated some interesting statistics which show that an appalling amount of valuable waste is thrown away during the annual spring cleaning time. In the past American housewives have paid little attention to discriminating between absolute rubbish and things that should not be burned or thrown on the dump-heap.

Housecleaning time is the time to clean all these things together and decide the proper disposition to be made of each article. Careful judgment should be used before putting each thing back in its accustomed place, to decide whether it has any further usefulness in the household. Nothing that is no longer needed or used should be kept, causing household clutter and becoming a harbor for dust and moths and disease germs.

"THE CODE OF HONOR" AT PLAYHOUSE

"The Code of Honor," Atherton Brownell's three-act drama, was presented in the French language before a large and appreciative audience at the Playhouse last evening by Paul Cazenove, the noted French dramatist and actor, who is now touring the New England states with his troupe of artists, direct from Montreal. Mr. Cazenove, which last visit to Lowell nine years ago at which time he performed at the Opera House, has been in America a great many years and has delighted audiences in Montreal, Quebec, New York and other large cities of the states.

Mr. Cazenove, who is as young as ever and more capable than ever in the stage line, informed The Sun yesterday afternoon that it is his intention to organize a circuit in the New England states, which of course will include Lowell, and that he hopes to perform in each city at least twice a month. He believes there is a great field in this part of the states for French theatrical performances and if

AT SACRED HEART CHURCH, MOORE STREET

SUNDAY EVENING, MAY 4, AT 8 O'CLOCK

SUBSCRIPTION, 35 CENTS

the project is carried out none but the best French pieces will be produced.

Mr. Cazenove's present tour of the French centres of New England is under the auspices of E. L. Turcot, a local merchant, who is sparing nothing to give lovers of good theatricals the best there is, and so far his efforts have been crowned with success.

"The Code of Honor," which was presented last evening and which will be repeated this evening deals with deMaufrault, an old warrior of 1870, a fencing master reduced to poverty, but who still retains the code of honor, and the famous blade of his ancestors, until love for his granddaughter forces him to sell it. The granddaughter is loved by deMaufrault's only pupil, Leonard Randolph, a young American, whose father has decreed another choice for him. The father stoops to scheming to estrange his son from the old fencer's granddaughter, and the latter is led to believe in a dishonorable act by the pupil, whom he seeks to kill in a duel, only to break his cherished blade. The matter is finally solved when the young and beautiful granddaughter declares her love for Randolph. Thus the nobility of the old soldier and his granddaughter teaches the code of honor, and happiness is restored.

The stellar role, that of deMaufrault, is interpreted by Cazenove, which means that every line of it is told to perfection. Mr. Cazenove has the voice and the physique, while his elocution is perfect. He is an expert at fencing, a vital point in the rendition of his difficult role, and all in all his appearance on the scene is a real treat. His supporting cast is composed of such able actors and actresses as Edgar Willy, formerly of the Regence troupe of Paris; George Bouchard, Leon Potjean, Adrien Laurin and Joseph Vibrod; Mademoiselle Simonee Roberval, Mademoiselle Juliette Reyna and Madame Louise Soulier.

BOY SCOUTS RECEIVE TOKENS OF MERIT

Lowell's Boy Scouts truly came into their own last evening at Memorial hall when amidst inspiring and impressive ceremonies, the winners of bond selling honors in the Liberty Loan campaign of the past 18 months received their tokens of merit and were honored by being addressed by no less a person than the congressman from this district, Hon. John Jacob Rogers. Congressman Rogers presented the medals and insignia to the boys and was assisted by Scout Executive Reid T. Ripley and Assistant Deputy A. M. Thurston. Besides the stirring address of Mr. Rogers, good talks to the boys were made by Mr. Ripley and one or two other Scout officials. Albert Edmund Brown, the community singing leader, was present, and the boys and their friends present enjoyed a good old-fashioned "sing."

Three classes of honor were represented. The emblem pin was awarded to boys who made the honor roll for the first time in selling bonds. Plain bars were given boys for whom it was the second time they had earned an honor and pin bars were given boys winning third time honors.

Practically every troop in the city and suburban towns was represented in the exercises.

The Boy Scouts of Lowell are to get into the bond selling game for what they expect will be the last time, next Monday when the Scouts are to thoroughly canvass the city, house by house and office by office, selling bonds. A little different arrangement has been made in regard to their campaign this time in that the Scouts have been ordered not to solicit bond subscriptions in front of the banks and during this campaign will not go into the mills of the city. Apart from this, all the rest of the territory is to be regarded as good hunting ground for the Scouts, each troop being assigned a particular area.

Congressman Rogers last night previous to coming to Memorial hall to award the bond selling prizes, attended a similar event in Braintree of which he reported that the Braintree Scouts had evidently been on their toes all through the different campaigns and he had been astonished at the amount of bonds they had sold.

At the close of the awarding of prizes last night the congressman gave the boys a short talk in which he pointed out the urgency for Lowell and every other first class American city making its quota and he said no little responsibility and credit for good results attained, would rest on the Scouts because of the fact that in Lowell in particular, subscriptions from individuals had been coming in so very slowly.

TARZAN, NOVELTY OF NOVELTIES, AT H. P. KEITH'S THEATRE

NEXT WEEK

Seven acts of superlative vaudeville will be presented at the H. P. Keith theatre tomorrow afternoon and evening. Four of the acts will be retained from the present week's bill and, in addition, there will be three brand new ones. Elsie Mains and her Black and White Boys will give their jazz concert; Morris & Campbell will have their funny times; Harry Hines will talk as only he can, and Manning & Lee have their own specialty to offer. The new acts are those of Hines & Sheehan, Strimel, Mack & Miller, and Polano.

The greatest novelty in vaudeville will feature next week's bill at this theatre. Tarzan is that novelty, just what the young people of the city during the engagement, but up to the present time, nobody connected with the theatre has the slightest idea who or what Tarzan is. Whether he be a part man and part ape nobody can say. That he looks some of both, acts some of both, and yet is a distinct species cannot be doubted. Everywhere Tarzan has appeared the interest has been keenly whetted. Nobody has been quite able to say just whether he is half man and half monkey, or all monkey. This will prove probably the season's greatest novelty.

"Ain't I Grand?" the skit to be presented by Klein Brothers, is a very funny affair. The Kleins are makers of laughter, and they have a musical string to their package of good things. Once they get going good and loud, once don't want to part with them. "Musical Scales and Humorous Tales" is what Frank Mullane terms his act. Mullane sings with the voice and dignity of an operatic tenor. He jests and jokes with the abandon of the surest of laughers. And, in addition, he is a character actor of real ability. He is generally considered to be the best of a good, straight comedy. Now they have a musical playlet called "Out in California," and it's as pretty and novel and tuneful as one could wish. The Amoros Sisters, who are generally called the singing French girls, offer a combination of singing, dancing and physical culture, and they show a little comedy in on the side. Good voices and they are dainty, pretty and dance well. Frank Marckley is one of the very best of banjoists. In addition to these acts, good acts, there will be the favorite Kidnappers, and a film comedy.

CRAIG KENNEDY'S FAMOUS STORY, "THE CARTER CASE," AT THE MERRIMACK SQ. THEATRE

The Merrimack Square theatre announces the formal opening of one of the greatest serials in years at its matinee performance next Monday afternoon when the famous Craig Kennedy story, "The Carter Case," will be thrown on the screen for the first time in Lowell.

This serial is essentially an educational feature and a special appeal is made to the young people of the city. Scientific means to produce interest while there is nothing in the serial that is too technical for the ordinary child to understand, yet there is sufficient stability to it to make the production an out of the ordinary serial.

The picture will be thrown on the screen after school hours in the afternoon so that every schoolboy and girl in Lowell will have a chance to witness it.

The thousands of readers of the famous Craig-Kennedy stories will be delighted to learn that they will soon have an opportunity to see the great scientific detective in action. Kennedy will make his appearance on the screen in "The Carter Case," the 15-episode Craig Kennedy serial produced by Oliver P. Hirsch.

The story is by Arthur B. Reeve, creator of Craig Kennedy, and John W. Grey, and is said to be one of the most thrilling detective stories ever written by this popular author. Kennedy is shown in all the details of his scientific methods of detection and in solving the mysteries that confront him to his utmost endeavors to run them to earth. He is seen in his laboratory where he conducts his latest experiments with gases and infernal machines that are of such great assistance to him in solving the mysteries that confront him. Several of his scientific contrivances are brought into action as he continues his pursuit of a clever criminal and his emissaries.

It is said that for the first time in the history of serials, this episode picture will be in the nature of a feature production, with magnificent settings, costly interiors and elaborate effects. A tremendous pipe organ, an aeroplane and a palatial home resplendent with tapestries and furnishings of highest value give testimony to the claim that no expense has been spared to give the production true feature proportions.

Herbert Rawlinson appears in the role of Kennedy and is admirably suited to the part both in physique and talent. Margaret Marsh is the other star, one of the most beautiful of today's screen favorites. The disregard of expense has been carried to the cast; it is without doubt the finest that has ever appeared in a serial.

In addition to this big special feature, the regular program for the first three days of next week will be of more than ordinary interest. "The Girl Who Stayed at Home," a big Griffith production with such stars as Robt. Harron, George Fawcett, Kate Bruce and Tully Marshall, will be shown as a western drama in which the popular star has abundant opportunity to display his versatility. A comedy and the International News will also be shown.

TWO MORE FAVREAU'S BACK FROM OVERSEAS

Two of the three members of the firm of Favreau Bros., electrical contractors, 316-318 Merrimack street and 989 Lakeview avenue, who were with the A.E.F. in France, have returned with the Y.D. Division and after a well earned rest of a couple of weeks, they will be back on the job. They are Urgel and Pierre, two very competent electricians, who have helped materially in the rebuilding of the firm's business. Despite the fact that this firm has now on its payroll as many employees as any two other electrical firms of this city, there will be room for two newcomers, for business is increasing every day. Show the boys your appreciation of their work overseas by giving them a chance to bid on your work.

SOLOMON CUTS SUIT PRICE 15 PER CENT

Max J. Solomon, ladies' tailor, dressmaker and furrier at 211 Bradley building, 175 Central street, has advertised a special for this week in the form of a 15% reduction on every Oxford grey suit ordered during the week and the result is that Mr. Solomon is now piled up with work. Nevertheless, he can still take orders and will guarantee satisfaction in every way. Give him a chance to "fix" you up.

BECHARD BROS. ARE READY FOR JULY 1st

The most vital topic of discussion in certain local circles is "What will you do after July 1, when the war prohibition goes into effect?" This question has been answered in many different ways, but the most logical answer comes from Bechard Bros., proprietors of the Lowell Soda and Spring Water Co., who say: "Drink our beverages." A kind of soft, delicious drinks and are local agents for Moxie and Anzac. Their place of business is at 56 Alken street and their telephone number is 950.

DROP DULL CARE AT SUNTAUG INN

Ever had dinner at the Suntaug Inn at Lynnfield? If so, enough said, but if not, read this. The Suntaug Inn is located on the old Newburyport turnpike, one of the most beautiful pieces of road in this part of the country, about 15 miles from this city, which means that it is but a short ride. Now it will pay you to stop at the inn and partake of one of their famous lobster, chicken or steak dinners. The food is of the best quality, with the prices right. In addition to serving excellent meals, this inn also conducts dances every afternoon and evening, so why not enjoy yourself? The Suntaug Inn is recognized as the finest motor inn in New England. This summer place is conducted by the C. A. Eagleston Co. and their telephone number is Lynn, 5190.

"TRANS-CANADA TRAIN"

Express To Run From Atlantic to Pacific in 93 Hours and 30 Minutes

MONTREAL, May 2.—The "Trans-Canada" designed to be the fastest express train between the Atlantic and Pacific coasts will start June 1 over the Canadian Pacific on its first run from Montreal to Vancouver. It is scheduled to make the trip in 93 hours and 30 minutes. The best time from New York to the Pacific coast is 93 hours and 50 minutes. The eastward running time of the "Trans-Canada" will be an hour and 15 minutes faster.

LOWELL GIRL INJURED IN AUTO ACCIDENT

Miss Eva Brault, 26 West Sixth street, this city, was the victim of a painful automobile accident in Lawrence Thursday evening. She was riding in a jitney bound for this city about 10:15 and was going up Water street toward the Lawrence boulevard when another machine darted out of Melrose street, collided with the jitney and drove it against a fence. The two machines became entangled and were damaged as a result.

Miss Brault was taken to the Lawrence General hospital where she was treated for injuries in the back and remained there until relatives brought her home yesterday morning. Today she was resting comfortably at her home. The jitney in which she was riding was driven by John Economos of 175 Suffolk street, this city.

Bedfast Every Winter; Stomach Trouble Gone

Mrs. Mershon Found Speedy Relief After 18 Years' Suffering

"I had suffered from stomach trouble for 18 years and had spent hundreds of dollars doctoring. Every winter I was bedfast most of the time. I commenced taking Milk's Emulsion last fall, and before I had taken half a dozen bottles, my stomach trouble disappeared and I have had no return of it since. This is the first winter in 18 years that I have not been bedfast. I also give Milk's Emulsion to the children for cough, with splendid results."—Mrs. W. G. Mershon, Brazil, Ind.

Thousands of people who have suffered for years from stomach and bowel troubles, as Mrs. Mershon did, have found the same wonderful relief and lasting benefit from Milk's Emulsion. Milk's Emulsion is a pleasant nutritive food and a corrective medicine. It restores healthy, natural bowel action, doing away with all need of pills and physics. It promotes appetite and quickly puts the digestive organs in action to assimilate food. As a builder of flesh and strength, Milk's Emulsion is strongly recommended to run-down nervous people, and it has produced striking results in many cases of tuberculosis of the lungs. Chronic stomach trouble and constipation are promptly relieved—usually in one day.

This is the only solid emulsion made, and so palatable that it is eaten with a spoon like ice cream. A truly wonderful medicine for weak, sickly children. No matter how severe your case, you are urged to try Milk's Emulsion under this guarantee—Take six bottles home with you, use it according to directions and if not satisfied with the results, your money will be promptly refunded. Price 60c and $1.20 per bottle. The Milk's Emulsion Co., Terre Haute, Ind. Sold and guaranteed by Fred Howard, Adm.

"For five long years, I was afflicted with Stomach, Liver and Kidney Trouble, which developed into serious Bladder Trouble. During that time, I am safe in saying I tried over 50 different remedies without relief."

I saw a testimonial of, I think, a Montreal man about 'Fruit-a-tives' and concluded to make one more trial. By the time the sample box was finished I found quite an improvement; and when I had finished a 50c. box, there was a grand improvement far beyond my expectations.

To make a long story short, I believe "Fruit-a-tives" or Fruit Liver Tablets the best Stomach, Liver and Bladder Medicine the world has ever produced."

30 INJURED IN MAY DAY DISORDERS

MADRID, Friday, May 2.—One lieutenant colonel, two captains, three lieutenants, 23 gendarmes and four persons engaged in May day demonstrations injured yesterday. The ministry of interior says a crowd demanded that all shops be closed in the business section and tried to break into the Bank of Spain.

DIAMOND NOTES

Jim Conroy, recently discharged from Uncle Sam's service with the rank of a lieutenant, was at the Red Sox-Yankee game yesterday in Boston, and is going to have a talk with Barrow relative to signing up. He is too late to report to Detroit and is once again the property of the Boston club.

The jinx still works against Brooklyn, which the Braves when the Dodgers are opposing them. Yesterday Brooklyn again pitched effectively enough to land a victory and held up the team when it couldn't hold itself up, but the little old hit was buried deep in the discard.

When is a Boston team going to win a game on the home grounds this season? Boston fans looked to the Red Sox to christen Fenway for 1919 with a whopping victory over Huggins' Yankees, but so far the visitors have taken two games to none by the Sox. The Braves started five times to turn in a win while at home, but went on the road dragging their tails behind them. No expected better things from Barrow's men.

The worm turned against Cincinnati yesterday and the Reds were set back for the first time this year. However, Moran's crew has showed conclusively that they must be handled with kid gloves and are sure to wreck many fine parades ere the season wanes.

It is rumored that all is not serene up Fitchburg way in the New England league, and that city and Haverhill still constitute thorns in the flesh of the organization. League moguls have every reason to believe, however, that proper and sufficient support will be forthcoming in both burgs before long, and the business men of each city being in direct line for the plums.

Sunday baseball starts tomorrow in New York, Philadelphia playing the Giants, and Boston playing Brooklyn across the river. The presidents of both leagues are to offer relatively to Sunday games there throughout the season, and it probably means a new schedule to avoid confusion.

St. Louis Americans staged just the right sort of an inauguration yesterday when they hammered White Sox pitchers to all corners and won 11 to 4. Gedeon, passed-up Yank, led with the stick, with a brace of doubles and a single.

Yesterday was a heavy scoring day anyway, a total of 56 runs being made by the 16 major league clubs, and there was one shut-out, at that, and two near ones.

COMPETITIVE SHOOT
An indoor competitive shoot was held at the Lowell Armory last evening, with picked teams of 20 men from each of the local state guard companies taking part. Co. G took first prize with a score of 548, and in the individual shooting Corp. Fisher of Co. G carried away the honors with a score of 19 out of a possible 50. Corp. Robinson, Private Weed and Private Lachapelle tied for second prize, each man scoring 47. The tie will be shot off next Tuesday evening. Major Edward Fisher acted as range officer, and Sergt. Major Butterfield attended to the scoring. The prizes, as on former occasions, consisted of handsome silver cups.

RUSH TO COACH CORNELL
NEW YORK, May 3.—John Harland ("Speedy") Rush will be head football coach at Cornell next fall, according to private advices received from Ithaca today. He has been named to succeed Dr. Albert H. Sharpe, who recently accepted a similar position at Yale. He coached Princeton during the seasons of 1915-6-7.

SUFFERED WITHOUT EXCUSE

Handy in Lowell are saying, I wish I knew what would help me; I wish I could get rid of this pain, or if I was sure Goldine was no good no they would try it. Here is our proof:—

Samuel E. Gorman, 11 Ellis avenue, 57 years old and well known in this city said: "I suffered with rheumatism and kidney trouble six years before I heard of Goldine. I was so bad that I had to get up six or seven times a night. The urine would distress me; was highly colored and my ankles would swell. My back ached a great deal. My hands would go to sleep, felt numb and were painful. My shoulders were stiff with rheumatism and it was getting into the joints of my fingers. I tried to stop it with other remedies but Goldine is the only medicine I ever found that would do it. It did us work very quickly. I hadn't taken it a week when the pain was all gone and the swelling began to disappear. My kidneys are a lot better and my back doesn't ache like it did."

THAT IS NOT ALL.
I think that came from stomach trouble for I had a great deal of gas after eating and it seemed to crowd my heart and make it palpitate. I couldn't sleep nights and felt weak and nervous. I took both kinds, No. 1 for stomach, and No. 2 for my rheumatism. They both helped me so much more than I expected that I want people to know about it. "SAMUEL GORMAN."

YOU MAY KNOW
We kindly ask you to call and talk it over with the following people and let them tell you about Goldine. Such evidence will convince you of the quick and permanent relief to be found in Goldine. We gladly furnish the evidence, the rest is up to you.

George Adee, 655 Merrimack street; stomach trouble six years. Ask him about Goldine.

John Kelley, 26 Brookings street; kidney trouble two years.

F. G. Moers, 35 Farmland road; kidney trouble three years.

Ellie Perreault, 43 Decatur street; stomach trouble 12 years.

Waldo A. Porter, 43 Hurd street; catarrh and kidney trouble.

Jennie Miller, Dracut; catarrh four or five years.

Charles P. Hutchinson, 21 Roberts street; rheumatism twenty years.

Mrs. Mary Gallant, rear 15 Davison street; rheumatism two years.

George A. Brown, 105 Tremont street; stomach trouble one year.

Charles McLintion, 6 Dodge street; cold stomach and headache two years.

William Murphy, 39 Chalmers street; rheumatism twenty-five years.

William Midgley, 19 Hurd street; rheumatism two years. Ask him.

Thomas McNamara, 757 Gershon avenue; kidney trouble.

Hattie Parsley, Pinkham street; kidney and stomach trouble.

Mrs. George LaPlante, 32 Manchester street; stomach trouble.

Mrs. Margaret Welsh, 330 Bridge street; stomach and heart trouble.

William Smith, 35 Eustis avenue; stomach trouble seven years. Ask him.

Remember, Goldine is not a patent medicine, but a root and herb remedy of merit; No. 1 is for stomach and nerve trouble. No. 2 for rheumatism (Special). We do not diagnose or prescribe but will try to help you if you try to help yourself. You want the best, the quickest and surest relief you can get in a medicine. Lowell people say Goldine is it.

HARVARD GYMNASIUM DIRECTOR RESIGNS

BOSTON, May 3.—Dr. Dudley Allen Sargent, gymnasium director for Harvard college for the past 40 years, resigned his post yesterday, but will not leave the university until Sept. 1. His resignation was for the purpose of giving his whole time and energy to his own school, the Sargent Normal School of Physical Training for Girls, of which he is the founder. Dr. Sargent was appointed director of the Femenway gymnasium in 1879 and since that time has been the leading spirit in the physical development of Harvard students. He was graduated from Harvard in 1875 and received a medical degree from Yale in 1877. From 1880 to 1883 he presided over the American association for the promotion of physical training.

SHOPPING IS SYSTEMATIZED

It is a mistake for you, Mr. Store Manager, to believe that the women of Lowell conduct their shopping in a haphazard manner. The housewife has borrowed and adorned the reputation of efficiency of the average business man. We mean, that she is systematizing her shopping.

If you believe the average Lowell housewife gets up from the breakfast table, pours over the ads of the morning paper, throws on a coat and hat and gallops madly and hastily to shop as per the morning paper's advertised bargains you are a victim of a delusion.

Tomorrow's shopping will be planned today—either before or after supper. Tomorrow's shopping will be based on today's bargain advertisements in today's Sun. You must realize that as regards planning a shopping expedition, there are still many women who want to "sleep on a decision." Being guided by an afternoon paper permits of this. This is worth bearing in mind and it explains why you should secure space in

DIVIDING THE SPOILS

There has been much speculation regarding what disposition would be made of the German naval vessels taken over by the allies. At first it was proposed that they should be destroyed, but as public sentiment revolted at such a policy of destruction, that idea was abandoned.

Now, however, it appears that three of the Big Four have arrived at the decision to parcel out these German naval vessels among themselves in proportion to their respective naval losses. This plan will give England 11 of the ships, France 9, Italy 5 and Japan 3. This arrangement appears to have been reached without the concurrence of the American delegation. It is presumed that President Wilson would not favor the acceptance of any of these ships, but the fact that they have been divided among the other great nations seems to place the United States at a disadvantage in naval matters. If the League of Nations does not compel a reduction of naval armaments, then the United States will have to go on with its vast program of building naval vessels for defensive purposes. If it comes to a matter of competing with Great Britain in naval armaments, it will cost a considerable amount to overcome the handicap of 11 war ships.

The United States has incurred an expenditure of over $30,000,000,000 as a result of the war, and asks neither an indemnity nor reparation. The time may arrive when the American people may conclude that we have been altogether too altruistic in our policy regarding the settlement of the issues arising from the war.

While other nations were seeking to promote their selfish interests, the United States was satisfied with spending vast amounts of money and putting an army of over two million men into the field involving considerable loss of life, and all for the vindication of our own rights, and to promote the peace of the world.

It looks as if John Bull has put something over on Uncle Sam in favor of retaining the old balance of power, league or no league. The question now arises, could any naval power the league could muster apply the economic boycott against England, whose naval strength is by far the greatest in the world?

MAY DAY RIOTS

There is certainly very grave reason for alarm over the various demonstrations of disloyalty carried out in different parts of this country in the May day celebrations. In Cleveland and in Boston, the riots that resulted assumed the most serious aspect. In both places, the disturbing elements seem to have been made up largely of Letts and other Russian factions, all determined upon bringing about here a state of affairs akin to Bolshevism as it now prevails in Russia. The appearance of these various bodies with their red flags at once aroused the indignation of loyal citizens and, as might be expected, serious riots resulted.

It is believed that the I.W.W. were the chief instigators of the demonstrations throughout the country, although in character most of the meetings seemed to be socialistic. At some meetings, the chief aim seemed to be to seek the liberation or re-trial of Thomas J. Mooney, while at others a specific demand was made for the release of Eugene V. Debs, convicted under the espionage act. Here in our own city, a socialistic gathering made an appeal in behalf of these two men and out-of-town speakers of the most radical kind presented their views in a manner that aroused their hearers, particularly those of Russian origin.

As a result of these various demonstrations, it must be clear to the government that a firmer policy of repression must be adopted towards those who attempt to advance their cause by violence or who, by peaceable methods, go about preaching revolution and flaunting the red flag. This business must be stopped at all costs and by whatever methods are necessary to attain the desired end, which is to stamp out disloyalty wherever it appears.

Mayor Hanson of Seattle, deserves credit for the manner in which he handled the I.W.W. when they threatened trouble in that city. His aggressive policy and determination to enforce the law against all such dangerous elements offers a salutary lesson in patriotism to the executives of other cities.

VICTORY LOAN

The Victory Loan campaign is at its height. It is one in which everybody who has the means should take part.

"To save is to have." There never was a truer phrase written than this one. It tells in five words just exactly what thrift means.

The organizations promoting the sales of Victory bonds are using this phrase extensively in their advertising. They are pointing its truth home to hundreds of thousands of people who have never heretofore given much thought to the matter. As a result of this advertising campaign, it is safe to say that enormous numbers of Americans are now laying something aside from week to week who never before did anything of the kind.

To save is to have. To have is to be able to do things when you want to do them, or when it becomes necessary to do them. To have is to be safeguarded against money worries; to have is to know that you can face the future, with all its possibilities of lost jobs, sickness and everything else, with the utmost confidence.

That's where the Victory bonds are such a great thing for the small investor. These bonds enable a man to put his fifty or a hundred dollars in an absolutely secure investment and to get a good rate of interest on his savings. There's no easier, better method on earth of saving, having, and making what you have earn money for you than to buy Victory bonds.

Save and have! The artillery outfit that appeared here yesterday impressed the people with the weight and power of fighting machinery, yet all the guns and tractors would not be missed from the array of artillery and equipment brought together for a real battle.

The soldiers in their appeal said to the people, "We've done our part, will you do yours?" Direct and to the point surely. It should bring a generous response.

THRIFT

C. H. Dempsey, superintendent of schools of Haverhill, is a strong advocate of the teaching of thrift in the schools. He has been in Washington in conference with the educational authorities there who are planning various new school activities. Mr. Dempsey has evidently been strongly impressed with the plan for teaching thrift in the schools of the country. It is an outcome of the appeal for economy during the war.

There can be no doubt as to the necessity of inculcating habits of thrift among school children. We have had many examples of the lack of thrift during the war, when it was vitally necessary. Men who were earning wages from two to three times as great as they ever earned before, let their money go as fast as it came. Today, as a result, many of them are without employment and without money.

OPPOSE LODGE

It appears that Senator Lodge has not been able to whip all his republican colleagues into line to join him in making the League of Nations a party issue. Mr. Lodge will not succeed in his effort in this direction. Nor will the country tolerate any attempt to have further political dickerings and delays over the treaty including the League of Nations. The people want this business settled just as soon as possible and the man who does anything to delay the settlement for political reasons will find himself in a losing game. It is quite probable that state legislatures will ratify the League of Nations, merely as an expression of sentiment and as a warning to their senators to avoid obstructive tactics.

Lowell, although situated on one of the most useful rivers in America, cannot have the privilege of viewing one of the captured German U-boats, two or three of which are soon to cruise northward up the Atlantic coast boasting the Victory loan. If Massachusetts, though, is as wide-awake and progressive a state as her people constantly tell westerners she is, she will get behind the Merrimack river development project and make it possible for us landlubbers up here to be able to see U-boats and other marine curiosities likely to add to our store of knowledge.

People at North Adams are very much surprised at seeing in their midst a full grown man, a visitor to the town, who weighs, it is said, only 48 pounds. He has gone there to join a carnival company which is outfitting there. Information is also forthcoming that this lightweight smokes 100 cigarettes every 24 hours. It explains a good deal. Particularly it explains why he is so thin, and later on, it will be the means of explaining why it was necessary to pick out a place to bury him in the local cemetery.

What would people out in Idaho think if they knew the Boston Globe was putting it all over their pet senator by calling him the "intransigent Borah?" Can you put your hand out and nimbly grab the meaning of intransigent? Assuming that you may have some of the difficulty we experienced, we'll tell you what the dictionary shows. An intransigent person is one who will never agree that the house was built right unless he planned and built it himself.

Shall we conclude that if Thomas Nelson Page, United States ambassador to Italy, really did tender his resignation to his chief, President Wilson, that it was a precipitate action, even on the part of a gentleman belonging to a profession indulgently credited with being temperamental? Have we not a right to expect some show of the red bloodedness that was shown in Mr. Page's great Civil war reconstruction novel, "Red Rock?"

Germany tells us Field Marshal von Hindenburg has retired as chief of the German army, and has retired to his estate in Hanover. What a well established habit von Hindenburg has of retiring! Let's see, didn't he begin this habit when certain French, British and American gentlemen set out to prove that his much touted line was no more impregnable than many other German institutions?

An alliance of French and American banking interests representing over one and a quarter billion dollars, to promote trade between the two nations, gives promise of good results. France wants to cultivate the friendship of the United States and this corporation will help to promote friendly intercourse in addition to commercial enterprise to their mutual benefit.

The nation is a unit in favor of Secretary Lane's program for providing farms for soldiers on easy terms; but congress is not in session to take any action on the matter. Something may be done in this direction after congress meets; but it is plain that for the present year, the scheme will not have passed the embryonic stage.

The old child labor law was unconstitutional, but the new one is a tax of ten per cent on profits from child labor products, and who ever heard of a tax law that was unconstitutional?

The war exhibit in John street yesterday, was a vivid reminder of two things: the destructiveness of war and the obligation on all Americans to help pay the national war bill.

SEEN AND HEARD

What about that ball field for those Delvidero boys?

That "rotating" tank certainly did attract attention in Central street.

The reason some men are not great is because they were not born that way.

You can do about anything you set your mind on doing and that's why you can buy a Victory Loan bond.

The average bartender is an optimistic fellow. And just for that you can't make him believe that anything unusual is going to happen July 1.

Vernon Castle's widow, so the papers say, is going to marry again. And darn it all we didn't even suspect that she was looking for another husband.

A lot of us who try to think about and get interested in other people find that our "own selves" seem to have a wonderfully magnetic influence on our minds.

Disrespectfully Declined

The "patriot" who talked a lot and did very little was holding forth as usual.

"I'm thinking seriously of offering my motor boat to the government," he brayed.

"Do you mean that boat you had me out in last summer when the engine stopped and we had to row 10 miles back?" asked his friend.

"Yes, that's the one."

"Well, if you want to do your country a service," said the friend earnestly, "you ought to give that boat to the Germans."—Pittsburgh Chronicle-Telegraph.

Some Queer Letters

Here are some extracts from authentic letters received at the war risk insurance bureau, Washington, from the wives of soldiers claiming support. A reader of the register vouchers for them.

"Please let me know if John has put in his application for a wife and child."

"I am writing to ask why I haven't received my money."

"You have taken away my man to fight and he was the best fighter I ever had."

"My boy has been in charge of a spittoon; do I get more money?"

"Date of birth? Answer, 'Not yet, but soon.'"

"Dear Mr. McAdoo, I have a wife and nine children. I should have more or less."—Christian Herald.

"Lemme Lick the Dish"

My! My! when mother used to bake! And beat the batter of the cake! The hinges of my jaws would avenge it with gustatory wish.

It seems as if I could not wait! The process of the fires of fate, And so I'd cry with hope elated—

"Ma, lemme lick the dish!"

Ma! Ma! was ever far among! The dear delights by poets sung. As when I sped my eager tongue Around the yellow bowl!

Then thrusting deep my face within, As though absorbing through the skin, I came up covered of crumbs and chin! But sweetened to the soul!

Since then I've sat at many a feast Which reached "the earth from west to east!" That course on course might be increased By flesh and fowl and fish.

But truly, simplest joys are best And I will yield you all the rest. If you will bring me back that zest— "Ma, lemme lick that dish!"

—Edmund Vance Cooke.

THE MAN ABOUT TOWN

Lowell citizens, country visitors or travelling business men, who cast their eye around any time Thursday after 12.30 for a neat, clean place to go and have barbering done, cast their eye in vain. Drawn shades in all the first class barber shops indicate the union barbers are enjoying their weekly half holiday. Oh there is no doubt they have it coming to them, apart from Thursday, they certainly put in some long hours. But there is another angle to this matter and that is the convenience of the public. Surely it has some rights. It has been suggested to me by a Lowell business man that the union shops of the city in this instance, might profitably copy the example of the drug stores. One afternoon a week all the drug stores you will find are closed but in nearly every store you will find a neat sign telling the would-be purchaser where he can go to get his needed prescription or other drug store need. I think the drug stores take turns. My friend suggests that the barbers instead of summarily turning their backs on customers Thursday afternoons, start the custom of having one union shop open for the convenience of the public that afternoon and the different shops take turns. A cart in the window of a closed barber shop telling the customer where he could go to get service, I believe, would certainly go a long

"FAKE" ASPIRIN WAS TALCUM

Therefore Insist Upon Genuine "Bayer Tablets of Aspirin"

Millions of fraudulent Aspirin Tablets were sold by a manufacturer which later proved to be composed mainly of Talcum powder. "Bayer Tablets of Aspirin" the true, genuine, American made and American owned Tablets are marked with the safety "Bayer Cross" logo.

Ask for and then insist upon "Bayer Tablets of Aspirin" and always buy them in the original Bayer package which contains proper directions and dosage.

Aspirin is the trade mark of Bayer Manufacture of Monacetheideester of Salicylic Acid.

way to keep some of that custom the efficient safety razors are constantly cutting in on.

I suppose you noticed that when you went into a drug store yesterday and ordered your cocoa cola, ice cream soda or milk shake, as the case might be, that the man behind the counter assessed you a little more than usual. He took one cent more on every ten cent drink, two cents on the fifteen and twenty cent drinks, and so on. Well, those are his orders from Uncle Sam, and he isn't to be blamed. There is one local druggist, however, who believes in shaking down the "dear public" to a fare-you-well, and this enterprising merchant decided that instead of levying a tax of one cent on every ten spent over his soda fountain he would simplify matters by boosting the price of all drinks a nickel each. This will no doubt make his book-keeping an easier matter, but it is a question if the public will consent to being overcharged in this matter. I know one man who won't.

The casual visitor to Lawrence who confines his investigations to the main streets in the early evening hours would never have a suspicion that there was any labor unrest in the downtown town or that violent attacks on law and authority were matters of everyday occurrence. I happened to be in Lawrence one evening this week, also in one of the downtown restaurants and promenaded along Essex and several of the intersecting streets for a time while waiting for the Lowell car and you could not ask for a more orderly appearing community—from what I saw of it. Stores were open and there seemed to be ample patronage despite the labor trouble. The crowds on the streets were well dressed and the few amusement houses I passed evidently had no dearth of customers. Red flags and wild-eyed Bolsheviks failed to make their appearance. I suppose the answer is that I got there too late in the day to see real action.

WILL OBSERVE THEIR 17th ANNIVERSARY

Lowell Aerie of Eagles will observe its 17th anniversary Tuesday evening, May 13, with a banquet in Associate hall and a reception to its members who served in the world war. The committee in charge is leaving nothing undone to make the event one of the banner affairs of the year and a large number of features are promised.

The committee in charge is as follows: W. President, David J. Hackett, chairman; secretary, John M. Hogan; W.V. president, James J. Bowen; chairman, James F. Roark; treasurer, William A. Mack; conductor, James J. Ward; inside guard, Thomas J. Collins; outside guard, William J. Durham; assistant secretary, Martin J. Crowe; trustees, Timothy F. Barry, John J. SUPERIOR COURT ADJOURNS

The superior court (civil) which has been in session in Lowell for the past two weeks, adjourned yesterday afternoon to Cambridge on Monday morning, with the Lebreque case still in the hands of the jury. A verdict will be returned Monday.

HEALTH TALK

The stomach and bowels are one continuous piece of human machinery—the largest in the body—and do the most work.

And if you keep your stomach and bowels in fit condition the chances are that nature will rid you of most forms of sickness.

Take advice—look well after the stomach and bowels!

You must have regular movements and be sure to keep out worms like Stomach worms and Pin worms. Dr. Tru's Elixir is known as "The Family Laxative and Worm Expeller." It tones up the stomach, restores normal bowel action and throws out those parasites or worms. Remember the name, Dr. Tru's Elixir. Ask grandma—she knows about Dr. Tru's Elixir. Adults and children should use it. Start using Dr. Tru's Elixir today.—Adv.

POSTMASTER EXAMINATION

At the request of the postmaster general the United States civil service commission has announced an examination to be held at Lowell on June 18, 1919 for the position of postmaster at North Chelmsford. This office has an annual compensation of $1300.

To be eligible for this examination an applicant must be a citizen of the United States, must actually reside within the delivery of the office and have so resided at the time the present vacancy occurred.

Applicants must have reached their 21st but not their 65th birthday on the date of the examination.

Application Form 224 and full information concerning the require-

The Tax on So-Called Luxuries

This went into effect on May 1st.

Be easy with the salespeople—they're not to blame; the government compels them to collect the tax.

This tax of ten per cent, however, is not a tax on the amount of your purchase—but ten per cent of the amount in excess of the price which the government has fixed for certain articles.

For instance, a Shirt sells for $3.50. The government demands ten per cent, tax on the amount in excess of $3.00, which is 50c; on this 50c you pay a tax of ten per cent, which is five cents—making the cost of the Shirt $3.55.

We'd gladly pay the tax ourselves, but we are not permitted to do so.

ments of the examination may be secured from the postmaster at the place of vacancy or from the civil service commission, Washington, D. C. Applications should be properly executed and filed with the commission at Washington, D. C., in time to arrange for the examination of the applicant.

Edward Rogers and Oliver K. Gowell of Sanbury, Penn., say they would have brought back even more trout from a fishing trip in Potter county if a big black bear hadn't made a practice of feasting on the speckled beauties that they caught and put into a spring.

MRS. BLANCHE HARD MURPHY, Principal

Do you realize that the government is reaching out into every department of life for more tax upon the public?

Are you aware that the searching after taxes has caused an enormous enlargement of the government departments?

If you are a stenographer YOU can get a position in some department of the United States. Many have risen from such beginnings to a high place and large salary.

Miss Hard's Shorthand School is fitting, and has fitted successfully for such work.

She is the leading exponent of the Pitman shorthand in this region. A court reporter herself, she educates others for that work.

Learn shorthand in this school, and you will be able to read your notes.

SLATTERY'S REALTY BUSINESS BOOMING

If you want to know if the real estate business in Lowell is good, just ask Edward F. Slattery, Jr., who maintains an office in the Strand building in Central street. Edward is one of the busiest men in Lowell and that is just because he's on the level and knows his business. When Edward first started out in business he realized that for his first stepping stone he would have to win the confidence of the public and with this in mind, coupled with keen business foresight, he has succeeded in building up a prosperous business. If you want to sell a piece of real estate or wish to invest in buildings or land, call at Slattery's office in the Strand building and he will look after your wants.

The well established agency of the Harley-Davidson motorcycle in Lowell, heretofore conducted by Joseph Dyer and Phillips, two veterans of the great world war, who have done their "bit" across the water. These two young men are energetic and enterprising and no doubt they will make a success of their new enterprise. Like their predecessor they carry a full stock of cycle supplies and bicycles and they have on hand the latest model of the Harley-Davidson. Pay them a visit.

This firm is noted for selling the largest load of kindling wood in the city for the money. Give them a trial and you will be satisfied. If you cannot call personally to give your order, call them up by telephone, their number is 1324.

a desired course, and also to calculate the assistance that will be furnished by the winds.

Little to Fear From Storms

As far as storms go, the naval aviators have little to fear. When North America and the Atlantic are clear of great atmospheric disturbances it is almost sure that an airplane could travel over the whole breadth of the ocean, from west to east, without encountering a storm. The reason for that is the eastward drift of the atmosphere, credited sometimes to the revolution of the earth, and regarded as responsible for the invariable tendency of storms in northern latitudes to travel from west to east. A great storm in this country is likely to appear in Europe within a few days—a fact that was put to use during the war by meteorologists with the American expeditionary force. Thus, if an airplane gets off from this continent in clear weather and with clear weather ahead, no storm developing after its departure is likely to catch it. On the other hand, an airplane traveling from Europe to America by the northern route would do so under the chance of running into a storm before reaching this side of the Atlantic. Practically all the cyclonic disturbances that move across the United States enter the North Atlantic ocean slightly to the south of Newfoundland.

It is probable the epochal flight will be made at an altitude of from 1000 to 2000 feet—much less than the average maintained on long flights overland. A reason for this is seen in the belief of meteorologists that a trans-Atlantic aviator would not need to fly as high as would a transcontinental aviator in order to derive the greatest possible assistance from the winds. The reason for their belief is that surface winds at sea are nearly twice as strong as those on land, and the increase with altitude over the sea is much less than over the land. The latter increase on this continent, as well as in Europe, is nearly 100 per cent in about 1600 feet.

Flying Low Less Dangerous

Whatever the wind direction, say the meteorologists, flying at low levels above the sea would be less dangerous than at similar levels above the land because the air above the sea is less turbulent or "bumpy."

"Marine weather maps," said Mr. Gregg in a recent paper read before the Philosophical society of Washington, "show that at an altitude of 500 to 1000 meters (1600 to 3200 feet, approximately) conditions are favorable for an eastward trip approximately one-third of the time, the percentage being slightly greater along the northern than along the southern route. At greater altitudes the percentage of favorable days materially increases especially along the northern route. For the westward trip the percentage of favorable days is so small as to make trans-Atlantic flight in this direction impracticable until the cruising radius of aircraft is increased to such an extent that they are relatively independent of wind conditions."

"All things considered, conditions for an eastward flight are most favorable along the northern course; for a westward flight they are most favorable along the southern course; that is, the prevailing westerlies are less persistent along this course than farther north."

Earth's Motion Deflects Airplane

Another factor the trans-Atlantic aviator must reckon with, Professor Marvin says, is the deflective influence of the earth's rotation upon airplane flight. Objects moving freely over the earth's surface are deflected constantly to the right.

All the knowledge on this and other factors in the possession of the weather bureau and affecting the epochal undertaking has been placed at the disposal of the naval aviators. With the development of trans-Atlantic travel by airplane, the weather bureau meteorologists hope there will be opportunity for thorough study of the meteorological conditions affecting it.

"There is need," said Mr. Gregg, "for a comprehensive campaign of meteorological and aerological observations over the North Atlantic in order that aviators may be given data for whose accuracy the meteorologist need not hesitate to vouch, instead of information based on so small a number of observations, particularly of free air conditions, that the deductions are assumed and not proved."

KELLASTONE IS THE HOME BUILDERS' AID

Messrs. V. T. and O. J. Mendlik of 1515 Middlesex street make a specialty of composition material for building, and are recognized experts in that line of building enterprise. They have had over 21 years' experience in it and are thoroughly efficient. The earliest record found of the use of magnesite composition as an exterior stucco is at Trieste, Austria, in 1859. This early magnesite stucco work stands today apparently unimpaired by time and weather, a convincing proof of its durability and stability as a stucco.

Kellastone possesses exclusive talking points beyond number—every one vital enough to influence the most particular builder, whether it be a home, apartment building, school or church. This firm has now had an experience of 21 years in the use of composition building material, and in the opinion of Messrs. Mendlik, Kellastone is unequalled for stucco work, either on the exterior or interior of buildings. Evidence of their handiwork are to be seen in all parts of the city, including the growing popularity of Kellastone and the local agents for this imperishable stucco. Among the jobs recently completed may be mentioned the residence of William M. Wood of American Woolen company fame at Andover, the residence of our own "Uncle" Dudley L. Page on Rogers street, also the handsome new residence of George Huxson of the Royal theatre at the corner of Pawtucket and Mt. Washington streets.

A memorial arch in honor of the returning soldiers and sailors has been erected across Main street in New Haven.

The Mendlik Bros. also have a number of other new jobs in prospect and are prepared for a busy season. Their office is at 1515 Middlesex st.

LOWELL TAXI CO. DOES REPAIRING

The Lowell Taxi Service company, whose main office is at 119 Paige street, is branching out in its business to some extent and now announces that it is prepared, on call, to repair automobiles at its service garage, 110 Ford street, where the most skilled of auto mechanics and machinists are employed. This company also announces that it is to deal in all kinds of auto parts and auto accessories, tires and tubes, and will in a short time be in a position to do tire repairing.

Of course the main branch of the Lowell Taxi company is its auto livery business, and business in this department is very excellent at the present time. Seven new Packard and Dodge cars are constantly in use due to the extremely reasonable prices charged by the company. The company keeps one auto in the Lawrence-Lowell livery service but its main business is answering calls for reliable and reasonable priced auto service. The phone number of Lowell Taxi service is 5391-R.

CHELMSFORD CO. IS SKILLED IN IRON

The Chelmsford Forge and Iron Works is experiencing a good revival of spring work, and Manager Frank P. McNeill, who represents the works in its business with the public, says he believes all kinds of iron workers are going to do well. This shop is situated at 492 Chelmsford street. It is doing a good deal of auto work this spring such as lengthening out automobile chassis so as to make trucks. In the case of lengthening out Ford chassis, oftentimes if the load strain is not going to be too heavy this company can make the frame longer and do the whole job much cheaper than it costs to buy any of the numerous form-a-truck attachments. The Chelmsford company is also manufacturing automobile springs and fitting them.

This company deals in all kinds of builders' iron, including reinforcing iron for concrete workers. It also builds and erects fire escapes and has two or three such jobs under way at the present time with two or three more immediately in prospect. This company is in a position not only to furnish all kinds of hand-fashioned iron for any and all purposes whatsoever, but can take orders and execute work to be done in cast iron. The company's prices are extremely reasonable, and upon request Mr. McNeill will call on prospective customers to talk over contemplated work and furnish suggestions and prices. Mr. Travers, foreman for the company, is a former employee of the well known Stone & Webster corporation of Boston, who have the reputation of employing only the most skilled of mechanics. The telephone number of the Chelmsford Forge and Iron Works is 5400.

J. J. McGAUNN MAKES LIMBS FOR SOLDIERS

John J. McGaunn, manufacturer of artificial limbs, deformity braces and extension shoes, has permanently established his industry now at 155 Appleton street, and reports having received quite a large number of orders, notably some orders from returned Canadian and American soldiers.

Himself a wearer of an artificial leg, Mr. McGaunn besides having put in many years as an artificial limb workman, approached the task of designing and making a leg or an arm for a person so unfortunate as to need one, with a more intimate knowledge of this difficult art, as well as with probably more sympathy, than is usually the case.

Of course it is manifestly a great convenience for persons living not only in Lowell but in the many towns surrounding Lowell and the southern New Hampshire places, to have an artificial limb factory located so near and so accessible. The expense of going to Boston and having work of this kind done is of course considerable. Mr. McGaunn's telephone number is 5304 and he has arranged his business so that he can personally call on prospective clients.

SACO-LOWELL HAS HONORABLE HISTORY

Perhaps there is no other concern in Lowell that has more to do with the prosperity of this city than the present Saco-Lowell shops. A part of the early history of this enterprising shop will no doubt prove in a great degree, interesting to the people of this vicinity.

As early as February, 1822, the Merrimack Mfg. Co. controlled the cotton industry of this district which included the Locks and Canals company and a machine shop. In February, 1825, the Proprietors of the Merrimack Mfg. Co. voted to transfer the water power, lands, etc., to a new company to be called the Locks and Canals company. In 1826, finding it inconvenient to carry on under one management a large manufacturing establishment and a land and power enterprise, the property was divided, the Proprietors of the Locks and Canals taking the land, water-power and machine shop. Under the new arrangement with Kirk Boott as treasurer and agent, the Proprietors of the Locks and Canals sold mill sites and water power to the manufacturing companies and in most cases building the mills and machinery for them. This continued until 1845 when the Lowell Machine shop was organized as a corporation at a meeting held in Boston, March 12, by the choice of Kirk Boott, clerk; John A. Lowell, president, and J. Thomas Stevenson, treasurer. At a meeting of the directors on the same day William A. Burke was appointed superintendent. The office of the treasurer has always been in Boston.

The Lowell Machine shop having bought of the Locks and Canals, their machine shops and foundry with all machinery and tools therein; also the tenement houses, on the first day of April, 1845, commenced making cotton machinery, mill gearing and castings. The Proprietors of Locks and Canals, previous to 1845, built and equipped with machinery all the cotton mills with the exception of two then in operation in Lowell, but since then and for many years after, nearly all the machinery, turbines, water wheels and mill gearing have been furnished by the Lowell Machine shop.

The Locks and Canals company was among the first in this country to build locomotives and the Lowell Machine shop continued the manufacture to some extent; they also made steam engines, boilers and machinists' tools. This class of machinery was discontinued a few years previous to 1870.

In 1858 the shop began building paper machinery of the different kinds in use and continued to do so for many years.

The present company is composed of four shops, being located in Biddford, Me., Newton Upper Falls, and Lowell, Mass. These shops manufacture all kinds of worsted, cotton, silk and jute machinery for all classes of work, with executive offices in Boston and representatives in Charlotte, N. C., Greenville, S. C., Canada and a resident agent in Japan.

A woman trying to board a street car in Philadelphia stuck because her skirt was so tight and the crowd was so large that it was just impossible to lift the garment above the straining point. A street cleaner came to the rescue. His shovel was held between the car step and the street, and the additional step furnished the assistance needed.

REAL ESTATE DEALERS

Paul A. Bogossian, real estate broker, 117 Central street, office 218 Bradley building, reports the following sales negotiated during the past week:

The final papers have been passed for the sale of a piece of property situated at Nos. 156-155 Wilder street. The property consists of a very good two-tenths house, all modern improvements, with six rooms in each tenement. Land to the extent of 5001 square feet is also conveyed in the sale.

The sale was made in behalf of Mr. and Mrs. William P. Hession of Lowell, and the purchaser was Mr. Abraham Levy, also of Lowell, who bought for investment purposes.

Thos. H. Elliott, real estate broker—office 64 Central street, corner Prescott, reports the following sales negotiated during the past week:

The sale of a first-class two-apartment parcel at 157-155 Concord street. The house full two and one-half story with two apartments of five rooms and bath each. The roof is slated. The grantor in the transaction is William E. O'Connell, the grantees John Donlon and Annie M. Donlon. Mr. and Mrs. Donlon buy for purposes of investment.

Also the sale of a two-story residence at 644 Broadway near its junction with School street. The house is of mansard roof type with eight large rooms and bath. There is a stable of good size on the premises. The transfer is effected on behalf of C. E. Broene, the purchasers being John P. Dyer and Patrick P. Dyer. Messrs. Dyer buy for a home and are already in occupancy of the premises.

Final papers have been passed in the transfer of an attractive cottage parcel at 158 Shaw street. The house has seven large rooms and bath. A large lot affording a fine opportunity for a garden was conveyed in the transfer. The grantor is Victor Medlund, the grantee Ephraim Beauregard. Mr. Beauregard buys for personal occupancy.

Final papers have been passed in the transfer of a large block property at 9-11 Mill street in close proximity to Hofsford square. The property comprises nine apartments of five rooms each. It carries an assessment of $3,000. The grantor is Patrick McDagh, the grantees John Chesser and Rastaf Rashid. Messrs. Chesser and Rashid buy strictly for investment purposes.

On behalf of the Smithsonian Institute of Washington, D. C., conveyance has been made of an excellent lot of land situated on the easterly side of Crawford street in the Pawtucketville section. The parcel approximates 4,000 square feet and is excellently adapted to building purposes. The grantee is William R. Forrest.

Sales by E. F. Slattery, Jr., Edward P. Slattery, Jr., Strand building, reports the following sales during the past week.

Final papers have been recorded in the sale of the property situated at 800-802 Moody street. The house is an excellent two apartment one with six rooms, bath, pantry and set tubs to each tenement, and is of comparatively recent construction. The property is assessed for $3500 and contains 3500 square feet of land. Helen P. Hogan conveys title to Alfred Delage who will reside there.

The sale of the property situated at 14-16 Phillips street. The house is a large two apartment house having seven rooms, bath and pantry to each tenement. There are separate front and rear entrances and the property is in excellent condition. About 3300 square feet of land is conveyed. The grantor in this transaction is Austin J. Neal, while the purchasers are Patrick and Katherine Curran who will occupy the premises.

LEGAL NOTICES

To the Honorable the Justices of the Superior Court within and for the County of Middlesex:

Respectfully I bel and represents Walter S. Drevett, of Lowell in said County, that he was lawfully married to Ida R. Drevett now of parts unknown, at Lawrence, Massachusetts, on the eighteenth day of December, A.D. 1901, and thereafter lived as husband and wife in this Commonwealth, until the said Ida R. Drevett, late of Lowell, Mass., on June 5, 1912, that your libellant has always been faithful to his marriage vows and has never been guilty of any act of adultery or desertion.

Wherefore your libellant prays that a divorce from the bonds of matrimony may be granted to your libellant and the said Ida R. Drevett.

Dated this twenty-second day of April, A.D. 1919.

WALTER S. DREVETT.

George H. Allard, Jr., Attorney.

Commonwealth of Massachusetts—Middlesex, ss.

Superior Court, April 23, A.D. 1919.

Upon the foregoing libel, it is ordered that the libellant notify the libellee to appear before the Justices of said Court at Cambridge, in said County, on the first Monday of June next, by causing an attested copy of said libel and of the order thereon, to be published in The Lowell Sun, a newspaper published in Lowell in the County of Middlesex, for three successive weeks, the last publication to be fourteen days at least before the said last mentioned day, and that an attested copy of said libel and order thereon be sent by registered letter to the last known residence of the libellee, to show cause, if any she have, why the prayer in said libel set forth should not be granted.

Witness, W. M. C. DILLINGHAM, Clerk, 19 and 20 Court st.

A true copy of the libel and of the order thereon.

Attest, W. M. C. DILLINGHAM, Clerk.

Commonwealth of Massachusetts—Middlesex, ss. Probate Court.

To the next of kin and all others interested in the estate of Mrs. Evans deceased, late of Lowell, said County, deceased, and to the Treasurer and Receiver General of said Commonwealth.

Whereas, Albert O. Hamel, public administrator, of the estate of said deceased, has presented to said Court for allowance the account of his administration on said estate and application has been made for a distribution of the balance in his hands to the next of kin and all others interested in said Commonwealth.

You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court, to be held at Lowell, in said County of Middlesex, on the twentieth day of May, A. D. 1919, at nine o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why said account should not be allowed and distribution made according to said application.

And the petitioner is ordered to serve this citation by publishing the same once in each week, for three successive weeks, in The Lowell Sun, a newspaper published in Lowell, the last publication to be one day at least before said Court, and by delivering or mailing post-paid a copy of this citation to all known persons interested in the estate seven days at least before said Court, and by delivering a copy of said citation to the Treasurer and Receiver General of said Commonwealth seven days at least before said Court.

Witness, Charles J. McIntire, Esquire, first judge of said Court, this first day of May, in the year one thousand nine hundred and nineteen.

Must Give Up Cables

the document early next week. Final decisions on several problems which must be written into the terms of peace were reached by the Council of Three, yesterday.

Poa Must Give Up Cables

Germany must give up her cable systems according to reports, but the allies will not incorporate in the treaty the plan for the future disposition of this property. The cables will merely remain in the hands of the five great powers until an agreement is reached as to what shall be done with them. This is virtually the same plan said to have been adopted for the warships which Germany has surrendered.

Belgium and China Complaint

Objections over some decisions of the Council of Three are heard at Paris, the Chinese delegation issuing a statement to the effect that the action of the council merely substituted Japan for Germany in Shanghai, and gave Japan additional control of railroads in southern Manchuria. Belgium, too, is disposed to object to the conclusions of the council, as it is reported that the Belgians will not obtain rights they demanded over the control of the Scheldt river or territorial concessions in the Dutch province of Limburg and in German Maestricht.

Stop Press Attacks on Wilson

The Italian situation is still unsettled, but efforts are being made by the American and French ambassadors at Rome to reach an understanding with Premier Orlando. Measures have been taken to prevent further attacks on President Wilson by the Italian press and by persons engaged in demonstrations.

Petrograd Reported Captured

Petrograd is believed to have been captured by the Finnish army which has been advancing from the frontier. The Bolsheviks were recently reported to be evacuating the city. This pronounced reverse for the Bolshevik army is the most notable development reported from the anti-Bolshevik fighting fronts.

Government Troops in Munich

Bavarian government troops have entered Munich, but reports appear to show that the soviet forces still hold some parts of the city.

Heads "Marching on Hungary"

A rather indefinite report from London states that a Russian Bolshevik army is marching on Hungary after the arrangement of a convention with the Ukrainians. Whether this means that the Ukrainians are permitting the Bolsheviks to join the Hungarian army against the Rumanians, has not developed.

ITALIAN ISSUE

STILL IN BALANCE

PARIS, Friday, May 2.—(By the Associated Press)—The Italian issue is still in the balance with Thomas Nelson Page, American ambassador and Camille Barrere, French ambassador, both making efforts at Rome to find by conversations with Premier Orlando, a formula which will heal the breach caused by the withdrawal of the Italian delegation to the peace conference. Mr. Page has had two more long conferences with the Italian premier, who is said to show a disposition to resume relations, but who thinks that overtures should come from Paris.

Premier Orlando has written a letter deprecating anti-American demonstrations, saying that the minister of the interior has taken steps to stop them, paying particular attention to manifestations and the press campaign directed against President Wilson.

CONTINUE MARCH

ON BUDAPEST

GENEVA, Friday, May 2.—The Rumanian and Czech-Slovak governments, according to reports received here, have refused to entertain the offer of Bela Kun, the Hungarian foreign minister, to accept territorial concessions providing that fighting be stopped on all fronts. The Rumanians and Czechs continue the march on Budapest.

GERMANS EXPECT TO

SIGN JUNE 1

PARIS, Friday, May 2.—June 1 is given as the probable date for signing the peace treaty, in a German wireless despatch picked up in Paris. The first meeting of the German delegates with representatives of the allies is described at length in the despatch, the attitude of the French officials being characterized as "cold but correct."

The Sun prints the news of the world when it is news and only such news as is fit to print. It is a clean family newspaper.

76TH DIVISION UNIT
ARRIVES IN BOSTON

BOSTON, May 2.—The transport Canandaigua, with 145 soldiers and two civilians arrived here today from Bordeaux, France, after repeated delays due to broken steering gear. The troops were given the usual harbor reception, and at Commonwealth pier were entrained for Camp Devens.

Included among the units on board were 700 officers and men of the 302d Field Artillery of the 76th Division, consisting largely of New England men. Other units were the headquarters company, ordnance and sanitary detachments and Companies A, B, C and D, 115th Machine Gun Battalion; First Army Artillery Park Motor section, headquarters, and Truck company D; Photographic sections 17 and 23; Air service, and casual company No. 70.

The majority of the members of the 302d field artillery were from Vermont and Connecticut, the first of the selective service men to go overseas from those states. The artillery was the only unit of the 76th division to remain intact after its arrival in France, the infantry regiments being broken up and used for replacements.

Major William Gammell, Jr., of Providence, R. I., formerly commander of the first battalion of the 302d was in command of the members of the regiment on the Canandaigua, while the senior troop commander on the transport was Major J. C. McDonnell of Baltimore.

Only two men were on the sick list today, Richard R. Kent of headquarters company, 302d Field Artillery, who had bronchitis, and Fonseca A. Brann of Battery E, who had the mumps.

Novel Parade

ant dirigibles followed the procession overhead. The fire and smoke of the battlefield, the wail of sirens and shattering, ear-splitting explosion of bombs, hand grenades and guns brought a sense of the grim reality of war. More than 800 cleverly devised floats showed many of the army's activities in a way never before understood by the layman. Highly bands were in line.

Trenches, machine gun emplacements, dugouts, camouflaged artillery positions, signal stations and lookout posts, all manned by fully equipped doughboys, were shown. On some floats, Germans in their field gray uniforms and scuttie shaped trench helmets were depicted for the sake of making the mimic warfare seem more realistic.

Two of the 15 floats of the chemical warfare service showed the wiping out of the machine guns used by the Germans as a rear guard for their retreat. From another float, men hurled the Stokes trench mortar bombs, laying down a smoke barrage around German machine gun nests.

Another float showed the entire process of filling gas shells from the moment of their receipt at the plant to their shipment to the dump for transportation overseas.

Other floats depicted the different military periods in American history. Various detachments of returned and wounded soldiers were in the procession. The cavalry of the service was represented by the 11th regiment from

WILD RUNAWAY

IN AIKEN STREET

A heavy bay horse hitched to a delivery wagon narrowly escaped death this morning, when after a wild run through Aiken street it crashed head-first against the brick wall at the corner of Aiken and Hall sts. The animal received injuries about the head, but not a very serious nature, while the wagon was practically demolished. The driver of the rig escaped with a bad shaking-up.

Where the runaway started or the cause of it could not be learned, but storekeepers through Aiken street saw the horse hitched to a delivery wagon going through the thoroughfare at breakneck speed about 11 o'clock. The driver was on the seat, tugging away at the reins in an effort to bring the animal to a stop, but his efforts proved fruitless. The horse in its wild race dodged around vehicles of all descriptions in the street and succeeded in pulling through without any collision, but when it reached the sharp curve at the corner of Aiken and Hall streets, it crashed into the wall.

The driver was thrown out of the wagon, but was not injured. He quickly unhitched the horse and led it away without giving the name of the owner. The wagon, which had two of its wheels smashed, was left on the side of the road and later it was dragged away. The spot where the accident occurred is considered one of the most dangerous in the city and the residents of the district have filed petition after petition with the municipal council for its abolition, but so far without any result.

SOLDIERS BUY BONDS
WITH $60 BONUS

WASHINGTON, May 2.—Reports to the army Victory Loan office from demobilization camps indicate that many men as they are discharged from service are investing their $60 bonus checks in Liberty notes, says a statement issued by the war department. Indications are the per capita subscriptions to the present loan will be greater than in any other.

Women on juries in California have been rendering satisfactory service, and now in San Francisco for the first time two women have been chosen to serve on the county grand jury.

Fort Meyer, Va.: the field artillery detachment was from West Point; a captive balloon on floats was shown by the signal corps.

The parade, ordered by the war department to arouse enthusiasm in the Victory loan campaign, was also designed to show exactly how the money invested in previous Liberty loans was expended and to prove to subscribers to the Victory loan that the war bills incurred in the final days of the conflict were necessary to help bring the war to a swift conclusion.

Cabinet officials, army and navy officers of high rank, governors of several states, federal, state and city officials, and military attaches of foreign powers, formed the official reviewing party.

CHINESE DELEGATION
CABLE LINES ARE NOW
ISSUES STATEMENT IN PRIVATE HANDS

PARIS, Friday, May 2.—(By the Associated Press)—In declaring its disappointment with the decision of the council of three regarding Kiaochow, the Chinese delegation to the peace conference in its statement today said that the decision gives Japan practical control of northern China. The statement points out that China was not a party to any agreement between Great Britain, France and Japan, though former Chinese territory was involved.

The statement reads in part: "If the council has granted the claims of Japan in full for the purpose of saving the League of Nations, as is intimated to be the case, China has less to complain of, believing as she does, that it is a duty to make sacrifices for such a noble cause as the League of Nations. She cannot, however, refrain from wishing that the council had seen fit as would be far more consonant with the spirit of the league now on the eve of formation, to call upon strong Japan to forego her claims animated by a desire for aggrandizement, instead of upon weak China to surrender what is hers by right."

China came to the conference with a strong faith in the lofty principles adopted by the allied and associated powers as the basis of a just and permanent world peace. Great, therefore, will be the disappointment and disillusion of the Chinese people over the proposed settlement."

NEW ENGLAND

V LOAN TOTAL

BOSTON, May 3.—The close of the second week of the Victory loan campaign found New England with considerably less than half its quota subscribed. An overnight increase of $12,561,000 brought the district total as officially tabulated today to $179,820,000. In order to reach the objective a daily average of more than $29,000,000 will be required.

The day's subscriptions by states was: Massachusetts, $7,682,000; Rhode Island, $2,051,000; Connecticut, $1,749,000; Maine, $450,000; New Hampshire, $115,000; Vermont, $202,000. Boston's subscription for the day was $2,417,000.

WOMAN MURDERED

BOARDER IS HELD

CAMBRIDGE, May 2.—Mrs. Annie Wilson was strangled in her home at 20 Marcella street last night. James Lydon, a boarder at the house was arrested, and according to the police, admitted he committed the crime. He was held on a charge of first degree murder.

Mrs. Mary Roberts, formerly a boarder at the Wilson home, told the police that she went to the house in Marcella street in answer to a telephone call, where she said she was attacked by Lydon. Mrs. Roberts said that she struggled with the man and that he became frightened by her shrieks and ran.

Mrs. Roberts said that after she discovered Mrs. Wilson's body she accused Lydon and that he said: "Yes, I killed her." He then attacked her, she said.

Mrs. Wilson was 50 years old. Lydon, who was arrested at the North station in Boston, is 22 years old.

DEATHS

BELLEY.—Joseph Belley, aged 66 years, died last night at his home, 129 Crawford street. He leaves five sons, George, Elie, Edmond, Urie and Eugene; four daughters, Mesdames Ernest Lemieux, Le Scapell, H. Beaulieu and Rev. Sister Luc Evangeliste, the latter of Alberta, Canada.

CHOS.—Mrs. George Chos, nee Corn Guerin, aged 22 years, died last night at her home, 274 Salem street, South Lawrence. She leaves her husband, her father, George Guerin; three brothers, Henry, Albert and Walter Guerin; and three sisters, Mesdames Ida M. Leland and Lottie Sweeney of this city and Mrs. Rose Sheehan of Concord, N. H. The body will be removed to the home of the father, 450 Merrimack street, this city.

WASHINGTON, May 2.—American cable lines taken over by the government in November were restored to private ownership and operation at midnight last night by direction of President Wilson.

The turn back was without ceremony or formality, the wire control board of the postoffice department having arranged details of the transfer on April 29, at which time the government made known its intention to relinquish control of the properties.

Since December, Newcomb Carleton, president of the Western Union Telegraphs Co., has been directing head of the cable service by appointment of the postmaster general.

Beginning today, however, Clarence M. Mackay, president of the Commercial Cable Co., will resume his former duties with that company. Mr. Mackay was removed by the postmaster general because of his refusal to cooperate in government efforts to unify all trans-Atlantic service.

BELGIAN CHAPLAIN
HERE ON MISSION

NEW YORK, May 2.—Major Pierre Blommaert, Protestant chaplain-in-chief of the Belgian army's chevalier of the Order of Leopold and veteran of four and a half years' continuous war service, arrived in this city yesterday on the steamship Nieuw Amsterdam on a mission from the Belgian government to make known to this country the actual situation of the Belgian people at present and their need in the work of reconstruction. Chaplain Blommaert also a delegate from the union of Protestant evangelical churches of Belgium to the Federal Council of Churches of Christ in America.

"The first end of the Belgian people at this time is work," said chaplain Blommaert. "We must have raw materials for use in re-establishing our industries, and credits for the purchase of materials and machinery. "Gleness is our greatest danger at present. I doubt if it is realized in America that four-fifths of our people are without employment. The mines and the steel industry, upon which we depended so much before the war, are stagnated. We are making a slow start in reviving the textile industry, which also has a mighty important element in the economic life of our people.

"Some of the machinery which was stolen from us by the Germans is now being returned but most of that which we shall need can only come from America."

106 AIRMEN KILLED IN TEXAS DURING WAR

FORT WORTH, Tex., May 2.—One hundred and six men were killed at the three big government aviation fields here between November 15, 1917, and the recent close of aerial activities, according to official figures just made public.

In the same period the three fields now being closed turned out 1475 finished aviators, most of whom were sent to the western front. A thousand commissioned aviators also were sent here from other schools to finish their gunnery course at Tullahoma Field.

During the training period the actual flying hours at Carruthers Field totaled 35,000, at Barron Field, 26,608, and at Tullahoma Field, 32,458.

The tall spin and nose dive were responsible for a large majority of the accidents, according to officers. In the entire training period not a single American cadet was killed on the first solo flight. This is attributed to the thorough instruction in ground work.

While the tall spin and nose dive were chief factors in the fatality list there were other contributory causes. Capt. Vernon Castle, who had faced death numerous times over the German lines, averted his machine sharply to avoid hitting another aviator here. He lacked height for the maneuver, crashed and was killed.

50 MEN OVERCOME IN
NOTTINGHAM MINE

WILKESBARRE, Pa., May 2.—Fifty men were overcome with black damp in the Nottingham mine of the Lehigh & Wilkesbarre Coal Co. at Plymouth today. Twenty had been brought to the surface at noon, many in a serious condition. Thirty were still in the mine.

THIS FOX, PET OF U. S. AIRMAN, HAS TRAVELED FAR.

He's a bit of a traveler, this 14-month-old fox, picked up in the city of Nancy during a battle. And Nancy is her name. Nancy has been in Paris, London and New York. She has gone up 2000 feet with British airmen and now she is on her way to California with Sergeant Jack Heyon, who brought her over from France. Nancy, wild with fright, ran into a French machine gun in a trench at Nancy while a battle was on. The French man gave her to Sergeant Jack. She follows along at the end of a leash as docile as a puppy.

RACE QUESTION NOT CAUSE OF HAZING

ORONO, Me., May 2.—The race question was not the cause of a recent hazing episode in which two negro members of the sophomore class were covered with molasses and feathers, according to President Robert J. Alley of the University of Maine who issued a formal statement regarding it today. After saying that negro students are welcomed at the university and well treated the statement explains that members of the freshmen class, resenting treatment received from the two negro sophomores "doomed," as they say, to repay this treatment, "and visited the negroes' room. There was a scuffle and the sophomores escaped, but later gave themselves up to the freshmen who hazed them by applying molasses and feathers. One of the negroes had previously been requested to withdraw from the university for violation of rules.

ON THE HANDLING OF INNER TUBES

What the air container of the basketball or the football is to the whole toy, that, the inner tube is to the tire. Be careful of it and you ride on a first class cushion of air; be careless and you are going to ride all the season on the rim and the rocks.

If tire users better understood the construction of inner tubes, and what is more to the point, would put in practice what they know, the comfort of riding would be greatly enhanced. Let me emphasize several points in this article:

The trouble sometimes starts when the tubes are bought. They come in cardboard boxes, to be sure, but that is no reason why they should be kept in such containers any longer than is necessary. There is danger that the gum—and the danger is all the greater if the gum is of the pure Para variety—will be chafed and eventually cracked and ruined. It is a matter of economy to purchase a tube bag, which soon pays for itself.

The value of fresh air may be emphasized to advantage in relation to tires as it has been in respect to lungs. If your machine is to be "laid on the shelf" for a few weeks, remove the stale air, pump in enough fresh air to round out the tubes, cover them against the light, and jack up your car. On general principles, tubes should be filled two or three times a year with fresh air, since the effect of stale air is in itself deleterious.

Reverting to the subject of preserving tubes in cases, a given size of tube should always be placed in the same size of case. Just as it is inadvisable to wear shoes either too large or small for one's feet, so is it imprudent to keep a tube in the wrong sized container. It should be obvious that a 4 1/2 inch tube, if stored in a 4-inch case is sure to become wrinkled and creased, and it should be equally obvious that a 4-inch tube in a 4 1/2-inch case is bound to stretch and get flabby, as well as to suffer the ill effects of heat and action due to displacement of air; and yet people who are aware that shoes which are too small and shoes which are too large are similarly harmful to their feet, will thoughtlessly or persistently ruin their tire equipment by the kind of performance which I have just suggested.

In a previous article reference was made to the importance of lubrication. Before leaving the question of handling inner tubes as they should be handled, let me emphasize the value of lubrication. Care should be exercised that the lubricant is distributed evenly. If the soapstone or mica, or talc is "dumped" at one spot, surplus heat is generated, which dries the rubber locally and promotes cracking. The same undesirable result comes from using the lubricating agent too freely; for some people, acting upon the mistaken principle that if a little of anything is good, more is better, are inclined to overdo the lubricating expedient. They overdo it just as they injure the lining of their nostrils by employing a salt solution that is too strong for those tender membranes. Do not minimize the importance of lubrication, but be certain that the right amount is distributed often enough in the right way and in the right places.

WEDDING ANNIVERSARY

A very enjoyable time was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Rivers, 110 Lincoln street, on Thursday evening, May 1, on the occasion of the sixth anniversary of their marriage. They were the recipients of many beautiful gifts including several pieces of mahogany furniture, cut glass, silver and two beautiful bouquets. A musical program was carried out and included piano selections by Miss Marion Dillon, solos by Miss Vera Griffin, Miss Mollie Peterson, The Misses Escher and Gertrude Lord, Mr. Mattie Shea and Mr. James Armstrong. A mock marriage was one of the features of the evening's entertainment. Among the guests was Mr. James Armstrong, a popular member of the Matthews, who has just been discharged from the army after serving 18 months as a member of the 101st Military Police in France. A buffet luncheon was served by Mrs. R. Rivers, Mrs. C. S. Rivers and Mrs. K. Lord. The party broke up at a late hour wishing the couple many more happy years to come.

LONGEVITY OF TIRES

Sam Hunt possesses the secret of longevity for tires which is a factory process of re-treading the old carcass provided that the fabric is still in good condition and worth saving. When he has added a new running surface the tire has now added mileage that will satisfy the owner of the tire that it reduces his tire bill by 50 per cent. Sam's place at 342 Central street is also headquarters for the famous Globe tires, as well as one of the leading vulcanizing shops in the city.

by John J. Hogan. This is by no means a new line for Mr. Hogan for he was so engaged in Portland until last February when he gave up his activities in this field to enter the army. He was the Willard man in Portland so his opening up a station here means a change in the field of his endeavor but not of the business. Mr. Hogan hardly needs an introduction to the motor public of Lowell, as this is his home city and for ten years he has been engaged in the various lines of the automobile business. Associated with him is Mr. Joseph Halpin until recently with the British Flying corps. Mr. Halpin has had many years' experience as an electrician and is a valuable man in the establishment. Batteries of all makes will be repaired and recharged by Mr. Hogan as well as the Willard battery which will also be sold. The new quarters of the concern are large and well adapted for this kind of work.

G. H. May & Co.

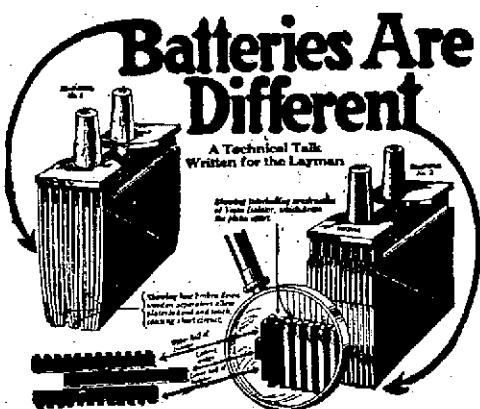

G. H. May & Co. is one of the logical concerns to which an autoist should go when in quest of battery repair. Mr. May is an electrician of repute and is rated as one of the best in this vicinity. The store carries 30 different styles of batteries; hence it is evident that every demand for a battery can be met with. The battery end of the business is just one department of the store which specializes in big electrical contracts. The present firm is the successor to Conant and May.

Records of the selective service now in the hands of the adjutant general of the army at Washington. If stacked end to end, would make a line of filing cases seven miles long, four feet high and 14 inches wide. Twenty acres of floor space will be required to house the papers, officials say, and a force of between 4000 and 5000 will be necessary to sort, file and index them.

Revive the Old Time Bicycle Days

For economy and health's sake and ride a bicycle. It is the best and most sanitary means of transportation ever brought out. Just think how convenient it would be for you to have one of these two-wheelers in your shed or back hall to jump on at your leisure and ride to and from your work or do any errand you may wish. We have the old-time Dayton, which everyone has heard of, backed up by such good makes as the Flying Merkel, Emblem, Red Wing, Harvard, Phoenix and New England bicycles.
